Brit Lily Allen hits US Shores

by Jimmy R. Smith
email Jimmy at: TWTdallas@aol.com

With her omnivorous musical tastes and cheeky attitude, London-based pop singer/songwriter Lily Allen made a name for herself almost as soon as she released her demos on the Internet. The daughter of comedian Keith Allen, Lily spent most of her childhood bouncing from one school to another -- in fact, she attended 13 different schools between the ages of five and 15. This constant moving meant she didn't have much of a chance to make lasting friendships, so Allen entertained herself with books and, especially, music: she listened to everything from T. Rex, the Specials, and the Slits to the Happy Mondays and drum'n'bass, and even ran away to see the Glastonbury Festival when she was 14. After she left school a year later, she realized that music was the only career for her. Allen concentrated on her songwriting and singing, developing a style that was equally sweet and bratty; late in 2005, she set up a MySpace page and posted demos of her songs, as both individual tracks and as part of two limited-edition "mixtapes" that also featured tracks by Dizzee Rascal, Creedence Clearwater Revival, and Ludacris. The critical acclaim her work fueled Allen's publicity, leading to tens of thousands of friends on MySpace, airplay on BBC Radio One, and a record deal with Regal/Parlophone before the end of 2005.

"I guess I knew from an early age that I could never do a job where I'd have to sit in an office all day long, " says Allen. And it hardly seems she'll be spending any time in a cubicle any time soon. The 21-year-old artist, pronounced by the UK's New Music Express as "the archetypal singer-songwriter for the iPod generation," took Britain by storm this past summer with her debut album Alright, Still, rocketing onto the UK album chart at #2 and her first UK single, "Smile, " topping the UK Airplay chart for six weeks in a row.

Now she's set her sights on America-and early reports indicate she won't exactly be flying under the rader here, either. "She symbolizes a blogging-age, middle-class girl; cockily ambitious, skeptical yet enthusiastic, technically savvy, musically open, obsessed with public expression and ready to fight back, "said the New York Times.

"Through and through [the album] sounds like part Millie Small, part Gwen Stefani, part Blondie, without never really sounding much like Allen's own mash-ip of cool," said Rolling Stone.

Allen's cheeky, street-smart observations imbue Alright, Still with an unerringly modern female point-of-view. On her smash UK single "Smile" Lily admits to feeling guilty-but not that guilty-for feeling good then and ex-boyfireid cries because she won't give it another go. On "Knock "Em Out, " a lame pick-up line is met with a litany of bogus reasons (ranging from various sexually transmitted diseases to a house fire) why it's not gonna happen. Cynicism and a sunny outlook aren't mutually exclusive in Allen's world, which goes a long way towards explaining her unbridled confidence and contagious joie de vivre. Gottahavit!

And that's Music... THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

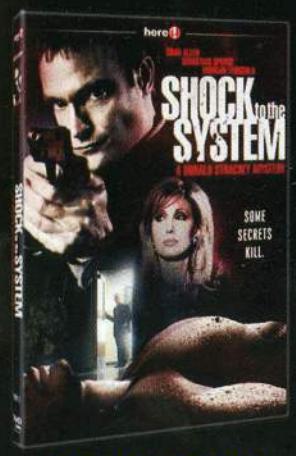
Shock To The System
A Donald Strachey Mystery



On DVD Feb 13th
SRP: $22.95

Chad Allen and Morgan Fairchild star in the second installment of HERE! network's gay detective series!

When hard boiled private eye Donald Strachey (Chad Allen) finds his latest client dead, an apparent suicide, Albany's favorite gay detective smells a rat and decides to take matters into his own hands.

With the help of his straight-laced but adoring husband Tim Callahan (Sebastian Spence) and his occasionally too-eager assistant Kenny Kwon (Nelson Wong), Strachey's investigation leads him on a dark and dangerous trail into the world of "gay conversion therapy" - a twisted mix of psychology and religion designed by Dr. Trevor Cornell (Michael Woods) to turn homosexuals "straight".

With a cast of sexy young suspects at the heart of the mystery, and a standout performance from pop culture icon Morgan Fairchild as a wealthy socialite with a few secrets of her own, this second installment of the successful "Donald Strachey Mysteries", based on author Richard Stevenson's much-loved book series, is sure to leave even the most jaded audiences in "shock"...

Hey, Ladies! The festival formerly known as Blowin' Up a Spot! Film Festival: A Woman's Perspective seeks female filmmakers, musicians, actors, workshop presenters, spoken word artists, and screenwriters to present their works at the 7th Annual Austin Woman's Film, Music and Literary Festival April 26-29 at the Carver Museum in Austin. This non-profit event is supported by the City of Austin and the Texas Commission of the Arts. Deadline for early submissions is February 17 (postmark), with late submissions being accepted no later than March 17 (postmark.) For more information about submissions and the event, please visit their site at blowinupaspot.com

Dallas

For those of you that just can't wait until the end of March, DIFFA/Dallas is hosting a preview party for the 2007 Jacket Collection next Thursday night, February 8, at 3090 Olive Street, Suite 300, from 7 - 9 pm. The Design Industries Foundation Fighting AIDS (DIFFA) is the oldest and one of the largest funders of HIV/AIDS service and education programs in the US, whose mission is to raise and grant funds to organizations that fight HIV/AIDS by providing preventative education programs; provide treatment and direct care services for people living with or impacted by HIV or AIDS; and, that support public policy initiatives that add resources to private sector funds. The Dallas Jacket collection, which this year celebrates its 18th anniversary, is one of the most popular and glamorous fundraising events in the country, and the preview party will offer a peak into the incredible fashion designs that will be available at the big event on March 31st. There is a $20.00 donation at the door for the Discovery Park Preview of Upsidedown DIFFA/Dallas Collection 2007, and valet and self-parking is available. To RSVP for this event, please call 214-748-8580.

It is that time of the year - time for one of Theatre Three's favorite, I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change, the Joe DiPietro and Jimmy Roberts musical comedy about everything you've secretly thought about dating, mating and romance - but were afraid to admit. Performances for the popular sell-out show begin next Thursday, February 8 and run through Sunday, March 11. Theater Three has scheduled two special Valentines performances on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 13 and 14; both shows will include a special champagne intermission - the perfect treat for your special Valentine! Tickets, priced $30-35, are available through the T3 box office at 214-871-3300, option 1, or by visiting their website at theatre3dallas.com.

With Mardi Gras just around the corner, it only makes sense that one of the gayest of all gay groups, Gay Bingo, would feature the Fantasy Ball for its next big shindig on Saturday February 17. Which means, Bourbon Street, babies....let your imagination go wild! As always, Patti Le Plae Safe and the BVD's host the evening of madcap fun and decadence at the beautiful Lakewood Theater, 1825 Abrams Parkway. Proceeds from the monthly event will benefit the John Thomas Gay & Lesbian Community Center. Doors open at 5 pm, and the action starts at 6 pm. Reservations are strongly suggested. To learn more about Gay Bingo and about the John Thomas Center, please visit rcdallas.org.

Houston

The Big Men's Club of Houston hosts its monthly social next Saturday, February 10 at 5 pm in the large meeting room of the Houston Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender Community Center, 3400 Montrose, Suite 207. Houston Big Men's Club is a social organization for gay and bisexual men of size and their admirers, and works to promote acceptance of larger men in both the GLBT community as well as society in general. For more information, visit the club's website at houston-bigmensclub.com, or contact the Community Center at 713-524-3818.

The speaker for the monthly meeting of the Houston GLBT Political Caucus on Wednesday, February 7 will be Paul E. Scott, Executive Director for Equality Texas and the former executive director of the Resource Center of Dallas. The meeting begins at 7 pm at the HGLBT Community Center, 3400 Montrose Blvd. The HGLBTPC is the South's Oldest Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Civil Rights Organization. Founded in 1975, the Houston GLBT Political Caucus is dedicated to eliminating prejudice, violence, and injustice against gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender people through education, activism, and political advocacy. For more information about the meeting and the caucus, visit their website at hglbtpc.org.

HOUSTON GLBT POLITICAL CAUCUS

San Antonio

The Esperanza Peace and Justice Center, 922 San Pedro Avenue, presents Two Nights of Film and Hope, featuring "Brother Outsider: The Life of Bayard Rustin," a documentary about the American civil rights leader, tonight - February 2 - at 7 pm, and "Beah: A Black Woman Speaks," a documentary about African American actress and political activist Beah Richards, tomorrow night, February 3, also at 7 pm. Admission is by donation. For more information, call 210-228-0201.

Aries March 21 April 19
Don't let your partner fence you in. You enjoy your freedom even when in a relationship. This does not mean for you to go cheat on your mate, just have some time for yourself to do what you like to do. I suggest you call up a friend and go catch a movie this weekend and perhaps some lunch.

Taurus April 20 May 20
Slow down, you are always in a hurry and sometimes forget to let your lover show you some affection in return. If I were you, I would take the weekend and go check into a nice hotel and just let your partner shower you with affection. Sometimes we need to be pampered and I believe right now is the time for you to take what he/she has to offer you.

Gemini May 21 June 21
Whatever you do, don't let your imagination get the best of you in a relationship. Fantasy is way different from reality and you need to realize the difference between the two. If you want a fantasy in the bedroom, make sure you talk it over with your partner before you both go through with it and regret it in the end.

Cancer June 22 July 21
Take some time this week ahead to get to know the person you are starting to spend time with. Don't go rush into anything without checking out all the facts. Weigh the pros and cons of what you do and do not want in a relationship and make sure this person is the one for you. Don't compromise your convictions.

Leo July 22 August 23
Not one to be self centered, you attack all romances with everything you have. But while you do this, you still take your time in getting into a full fledged romance. Right now you have trust issues with certain people, including those closer to you. Just take a deep breath and see where things go from here with all involved.

Virgo August 24 September 22
Your past and your present are about to collide. Now don't get me wrong, this will be a good thing. Sometimes you have to let the skeletons out of the closet and let your partner know the real you. It will give you the much needed boost to your own self esteem and help you tremedously for your future with your soulmate.

Libra September 23 October 22
A real live wire who has much depth going on inside you, you have to let it all out. You have some major passion flaring up right now. I say get out there and give them all you have. I applaud you for being able to finally come out of your shell and soar out like the butterfly you are truly meant to be.

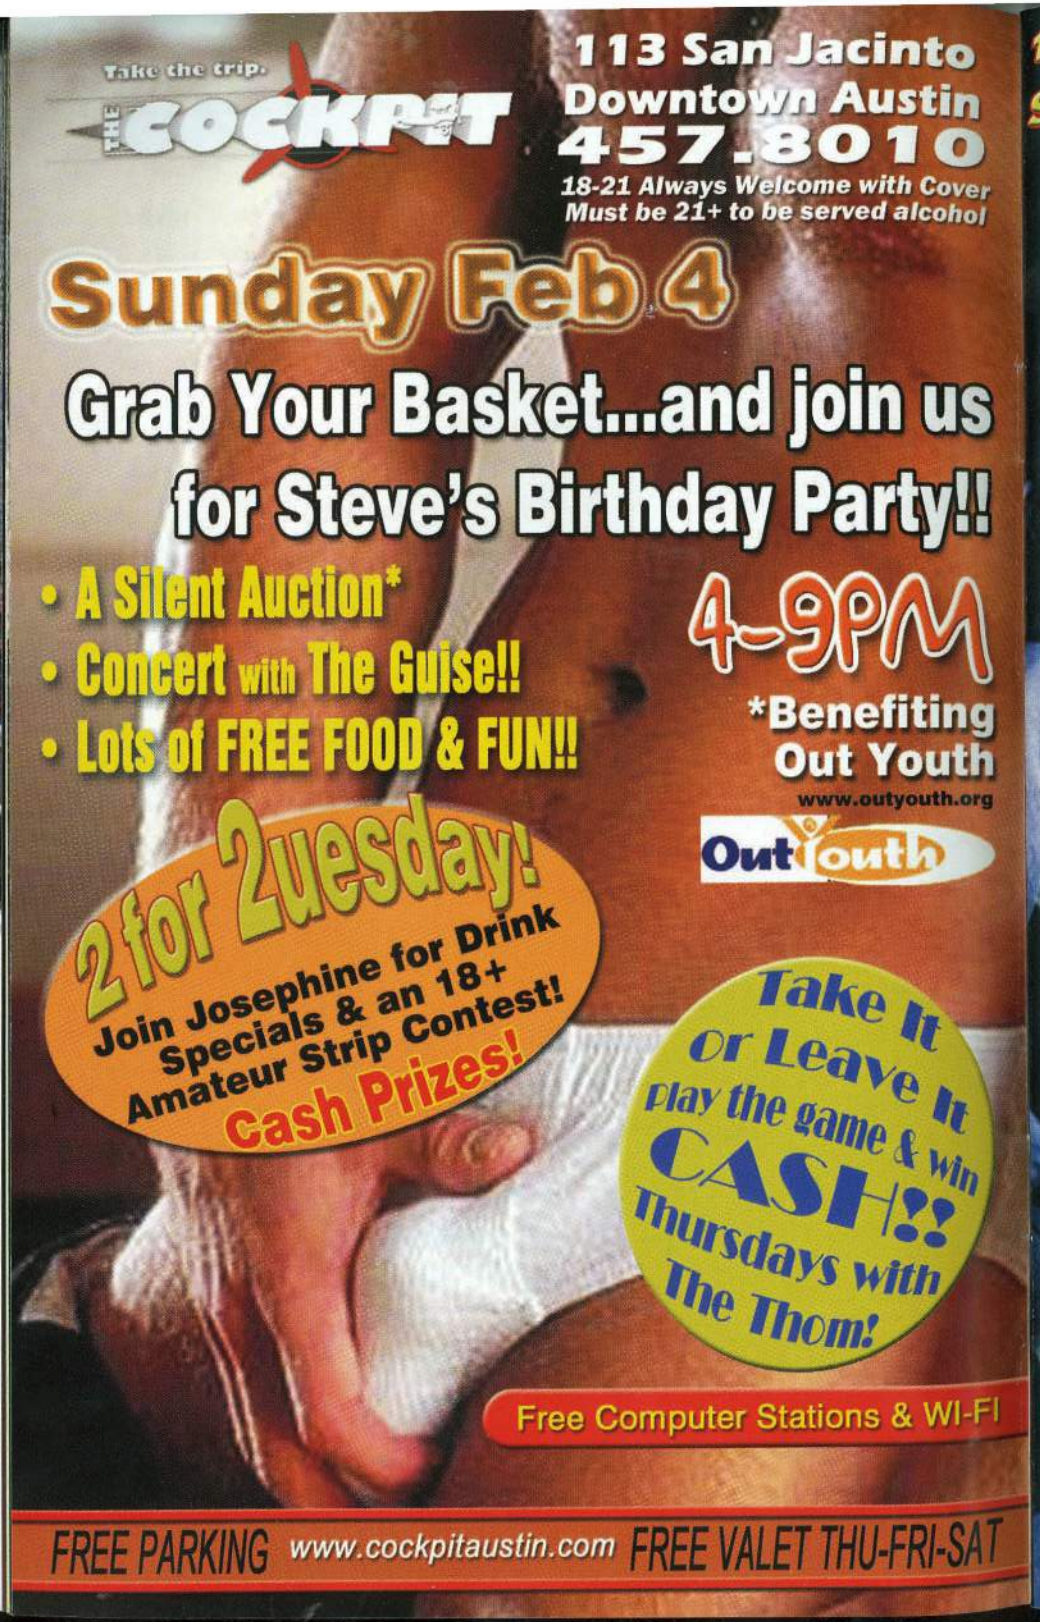
Scorpio October 23 November 21
Keeping your feelings in check is what I see best for you now my dear Scorpio. You have given so much time for others feelings, but you feel that they have not given you that back in return. It is not always a give and take in relationships, but every now and then we all want some attention back. You will get some much needed attention.

Sagittarius November 22 December 21
Get up and get out this weekend. You are happiest when active and enjoying yourself, whether it be at a sports venue or being in the game. I say get out there and just play to your hearts delight. The fresh air may do you some good. Lucky that you are, you have found this in the person you are with right now.

Capricorn December 22 January 19
You have a soul that has many past life connections to it. Maybe you were a former Prince or a Peasant. Whatever the case, it has truly made you what you are. You are a most noble person and have always given to those less fortunate than yourself. I am glad to see that even if a Prince, you know how to treat others, as they should treat you, with respect.

Aquarius January 20 February 18
Friendly and awe inspiring only half describes you, on this your birthday. Having difficulty forming close relationships, maybe for fear of losing your freedom, is in your head always. I know you value private time, but take a chance and get out there and enjoy the world. Take this year to explore new beginnings for you.

Pisces February 19 March 20
What with Spring coming around the corner soon, you must get rid of some of that unwanted clutter. I say if you have not worn it or used it in awhile, get rid of it. There are plenty of charities that I am sure would be most happy for your old things. If you can make someone elses day a little brighter you should.



Take the trip.

Classic TWT

by Rachael Gardner

7 Years Ago This Week in Texas

Ariel Garcia was his name, hairy armpits were his fame and oh-so-satisfied readers of This Week in Texas Magazine were to blame for the success of the issue that graced the racks of clubs and businesses throughout Texas seven years ago. And, if the cover shot of the stunning Argentine native weren't enough to make you want to log on to Expedia to book a flight to Buenos Aires, the centerfold photos displaying everything that Evita fought so hard for certainly were.

Talk about your rainbow highs...

Speaking of rainbow highs, isn't that what you'd call the Black Party at the Brick in Dallas; the 13th Annual Rent-a-Cowboy benefit show at the Round-up Saloon, also in Dallas; The Men of the Millennium review and calendar-signing at JR's Bar & Grill in Houston; the Sixth Anniver-sary wing-ding at David's in Waco; the Brotherhood of Pain 11th Anniver-sary Celebration at Ripcord, back in Houston; the Marcus Iron Show & Autograph Signing extrava-ganza at Splash Video Bar in Austin; and Men Working Together, Big Gay Ken's Bonham Building Birthday Bash, at the Bonham Exchange in San Antonio?

TWT and Dallas Gay and Lesbian Historic Archives archivist Phil Johnson continued his review of The Gay Century by focusing on the decades of the sinful 70's and the subversive 80's. Highpoints of his dance down memory lane included the May 22, 1978 White Night Riots which occurred after a jury found Dan White guilty only of voluntary manslaughter because his judgment was impaired due to his consumption of Twinkies in the assasination deaths of openly-gay city supervisor Harvey Milk and Mayor George Moscone; the October 12, 1978 March on Washington for Gay and Lesbian Rights which attracted more than 100,000 participants from across the country; the November 6, 1978 decision by the Texas Human Rights Foundation to file a suit challenging the constitutionality of Texas' Penal Code, section 21.06, which declared that sex acts between people of the same sex, even in the privacy of their own homes, was criminal; and, the June 28, 1980 "murder" of unarmed and handcuffed Houston Gay Political Cau-cus activist Fred Paez, who was shot in the back of the head for allegedly making an offer of oral sex and trying to fondle an off-duty Houston police officer.

HARVEY MILK, 1976

They just don't understand us, do they?

SAY, WASN'T THAT....Kip Granberg, joining the management team and lavishing healthy doses of Granberg charm on the beautiful men at Sonoma in Houston; freshly-medaled Mr. Gay Houston USA 2000 Joe Ross, hanging on to sidekick Brad at Guava Lamp, again in Houston; luscious LuLu, getting ready to do the Time Warp at the weekly Rocky Horror Picture Show screenings at EJ's, once again in Houston; Della Soul and Sean Carter, assuming their roles as Mr. and Miss BRB during investiture ceremonies at the BRB, yet still in Houston;Tanya Lee, snatching the Miss Gay Coach House crown at the Coach House in Brownsville; Alanya Marquez accepting the Newcomer of the Year tiara from then-living legend Pauletta Leigh at the Saint in San Antonio; marvy Mel, pouring the potent potables at Copa S.A. in, where else, San Antonio; Bob McKinis, backing into the back room at the Dallas Eagle in, of course, Dallas; Edna Jean Robinson, Samantha Phillips and Victoria West, bagging the bucks at the Legacy Founder Cottage at the Round-up Saloon, yet again in Dallas; pumped boy-toy Danny Wilten, clearing the dance floor with his massive pecs at Crews Inn, yet once again in Dallas; gorgeous Gil Lopez, divinely dispensing drinks at Moby Dick, once and yet still again in Dallas; and, Joe "Daddy" Root, overseeing the MAJOR changes at Throckmorton Mining Company, even yet still and once again in Dallas.

Finally, resident Film fanatic Steven Lindsey was appalled that the Nathan Lane/Bette Midler/David Hyde Pierce/Stockard Channing opus, Isn't She Great - the bio-pic about literary lioness Jacqueline Susann - hadn't turned into a straight-to-video flop, rather than the box office bomb that it was. "The film equivalent of a Billy Ray Cyrus haircut," opined the demure Mr. Lindsey.

And so it was, 7 Years Ago This Week in Texas.

DEAR DIVA

Dear Diva:

I am a 26-year-old gay man and my boyfriend is 28. We have been living together for a year and nine months - since day one. We are already talking about marriage... silly gay boys, huh? But, there's trouble in paradise, and I don't know what to do. I am the one that works and manages all the finances in the house - he plays X-box and surfs the Internet. A year into our relationship, we invited a friend into bed with us. Ever since then we have had several threesomes, but now he doesn't like them because he doesn't like anyone touching me. I, in fact, like being with other guys. I admit, it was a stupid thing to do. Now we have serious communication problems and actually got into a fistfight once because I caught him with someone in bed when I came home. We separated for a week and got back together. We have been together ever since. I don't like sleeping with him because he gained weight and he doesn't touch me the way he once did. I get grossed out whenever I do sleep with him and have to take a shower afterwards. The problem is we both love each other so much, but I don't like the way our relationship is going. I would feel bad if I were to break up with him. The thing is I see no future for us if he doesn't get up and do something with his life. He tells me he loves me and I feel that it's enough until we go to bed. Am I confused or do I really still love him? What am I to do? Should I break up with him or should I try to fix things and hope for the best? Am I just used to him being around and that's why I think I need him?

Perplexed in Plano

Dear PIP:

"The problem is we both love each other so much...." Honey, throw the pills and the liquor away and draw a sober breath and THEN tell me that the problem is that you both love each other. That's not the PROBLEM, baby, that's the only reason the two of you lug-nuts are still together. The PROBLEM is that you are a door mat with not even a hint of self-worth. The PROBLEM is that your boyfriend is a lazy prick that won't work, won't help out around the house, fucks other people in YOUR bed while you're not at home and then doesn't want to have threesomes with you anymore because he doesn't like anyone else touching you. The PROBLEM is that your relationship came to blows, and physical violence is never okay. The PROBLEM is that you no longer find your partner attractive sexually and have to take a shower after you're intimate with him because you find him so revolting. The PROBLEM is that you have completely stunted your own needs and desires to maintain a relationship with someone that I would say was not worthy of you, but considering how little self-worth you have is probably just perfect for you. The only ray of hope that I glean from your letter is your final sentence: "Am I just used to him being around and that's why I think I need him?" That, my dear, is probably very close to the truth. Often, when people are possessed of extremely low self-esteem, they will maintain an unhealthy relationship because they believe that they are completely worthless without someone in their lives - that by having a partner of whatever caliber, they are begging for the world to see that, by God, they are worthy....Look at me, I've got a lover - see how wonderful I really am? You probably are just used to having him around, and believe that it's better to have SOMEONE in your life, rather than face the world alone. My heart-felt suggestion to you is that you dump this free-loading, ungratifying man and, if you find it necessary to have another person share your life, find a roommate that, at the very least, will share the expenses and responsibilities of maintaining your home. If all else fails, get a dog - they're cheaper, less aggravating and usually don't gross you out. And for Gaea's sake, get some counseling....you really do deserve better than what you've been settling for, and a trained professional can help you to see that.

Dear Diva:

I am madly in lust with my university professor. Until now, I thought I was straight - hell, I've been bedding the ladies since I was thirteen. But this man is absolutely awesome. The ironic thing is that he's not really all that hot, ya know? But he's got this grin that makes me hard whenever he uses it on me, and he's got so much smart in that sexy head of his that I get really weak when he starts talking. Obviously, there are two parts to this: First, what's a life-long hetero supposed to think when he falls for his male college instructor? And, two, what am I supposed to do with these feelings that I have for him - I mean, I don't wanna get in trouble for cruising a campus staffer.

Awestruck in Austin

Dear Stunned and Amazed:

Is it just me, or is Lulu warbling To Sir, With Love on my I-pod? Relax, honey. Your straight credentials are firmly intact. It's easy to fall in lust with someone in authority - the Diva runs into this all the time. You can't act on your attraction, or this delicious diviner will be out of a job. So...go bang a babe while thinking of his grin, and focus on important things like your GPA.

Benjamin Nicholas'

I don't want to scare you, but lately I've been thinking about the moral value of telling the truth: Is it ever really a good idea?

For example, there was that evangelical minister, who despite being married and the father of five kids, was accused of having sex with a male escort, who also supplied the minister with crystal meth. When the escort first went public, the minister denied everything, and then later he said that he'd only paid the escort for a massage, and that though he'd purchased the drugs, he'd never used them.

I feel that while the minister was obviously lying to the extent that his nose visibly grew by several yards, and that even the Pope was giggling, the minister's real issue was this:

He didn't lie big enough.

He should have said that he's only paid for sex to help put the escort through divinity school, and that he'd only bought the crystal meth as a gift for his wife's birthday.

This past week I saw the film adaptation of Augusten Burrough's completely entertaining memoir Running With Scissors. And while Burroughs was obviously writing the truth, the veracity of other autobiographical authors has been questioned. Oprah had to get uber-haughty with James Frey, that nerdy guy who'd fabricated a whole bunch of his book about overcoming his various addictions, and about having a root canal without painkillers. The edgy novelist JT Leroy, who bragged that he'd been a transvestite prostitute , was also unmasked as being someone way more normal and far less fun. And so, before anyone starts calling 60 Minutes and questioning the authenticity of this blog, I would just like to own up to a few difficult, but extremely necessary 'exaggerations':

When I claimed that, out of respect for my own relationship, I ended my illicit affair with Hugh Jackman, who then married someone else on the rebound, I was not being entirely truthful. In fact, our passionate relationship continued long after his marriage, although he was not fully aware of it.

I once asserted that I had advised Clint Eastwood to stop making so many masterful, Oscar-worthy films about the searing complexities of American life, and that I told him to concentrate on a big-screen version of his early TV series, Rawhide. In all honesty, Clint has called me to see if he should tackle the feature rework ng of The Facts of Life. And yes, I did tell him, gently, that he was too old to play Tootie.

I may once have remarked that there can never be too many sequels to the Tim Allen Santa Clause franchise. I was lying, although I am intrigued by the pitch for next year's edition, in which Santa visits Muslim children and leaves development deals in their stockings.

WHEW! I feel so much better. Honesty is so cleansing that I almost can't stop.

Okay, I once told Madonna that if you adopt three foreign-born infants, you get the next one free. And I did swear to my dear friend, the still heart-tuggingly single Tammy Faye Baker, that if you write a mawkish personal letter to Patrick Dempsey and enclose a nude Polaroid, it constitutes a binding legal agreement. And I repeatedly e-mailed Jennifer Aniston to tell her that every time she elegantly flips her hair out of her eyes on Oprah, an angel is burned alive.

From here on, I dub 2007 as the year of the honesty colonic. Tell your friends.

Benjamin

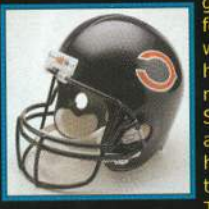
Rusty's XLI SUPER BOWL

GAY-FRIENDLY GUIDE TO THE SUPERBOWL

Next to my birthday and Christmas my favorite time of the year is Super Bowl Sunday. For 17 weeks of the year, NFL teams shed blood and sweat to make the playoffs for the chance to play in the Superbowl. A time honored tradition that has carried on for forty years. So, don't get caught on the side lines looking clueless. Grab a drink and some snacks and join in on the celebration of football.

We, my friends, have two teams competing today. One from the AFC and one from the NFC. Battling it out on a 100 yard field of grass and dirt for the coveted Vince Lombardi trophy. From the AFC playoffs we have the Indianapolice Colts who beat the New England Patriots 38 to 34 in a come from behind victory. Quarterback Peyton Manning led his team on countless drives to do what he so many times had failed to do, and that was to win the game to get to THE GAME. On the flip side we have QB Rex Grossman leading the Chicago Bears to victory over the Saints in the NFC playoffs 39 to 14. Thus proving that two in the hand is better than one Reggie Bush (Hiesman trophy winner 06') on the Saints. The Bears as well have been working for years to get back to the superbowl since the mid 80's.



So what does this have to do with bringing the community together for a fabulos time of TV watching? Everything! For one we have such things as pre-parties and tailgate parties. This is the time to shine when it comes to providing food and drink for all. Grill your meats and ice down the beer. All this, it is the ice breaker, and will definately give you the chance to get pre-game info or just cruise the crowd.

Gametime is where most do fall off. You may ask yourself, why should I watch 3 and a half hours of guys running up and down a field of grass in Miami, when I can spend that time crusin' the strip lookin for hotties. The answer is simple. It's a PAR-TAY! During the Super Bowl their is no need to worry about rules or whats going on around you. Those who are advid fans will happily blurt out information and statistics for all in earshot to hear. While watching the Super Bowl, remember these are the best athletes in the NFL and the sports world. As they race up and down the field exibiting grace, speed, strength, and agility. Remember many of these fine butch football players are very eligible batchelors making in the neighborhood of triple digits to millions a year. So pick a team and a couple of cuties and watch them work their magic.

After about an hour and a half of opening and festivities including actual play - you will find the 2nd of 4, 15 min. Quarters ending. It is half time. If you don't know about Super Bowl halftime shows - you better ask someone. This break in the game allows the viewers and fans to refreshen drinks and discuss strategies. Most important though, are the crazy commercials and the fagtastic haf time shows itself. Millions are spent for seconds of commercial time, and millions spent on the productions during the break in gameplay This wonderful moment has had some of the world's most talented singers such as Diana Ross, Michael Jackson, Brittney Spears, and who could forget that tittilating performance by Justin Timberlake and Janet Jackson. I guarantee that millions of butch football studs and jocks everywhere, who had never watched a half time show, were quick to hit rewind button on that nipply Super Bowl night. So buckle up and get ready, this year Prince is headlining and I'm sure as shit that he is gonna wear us out. The half time show has always been a big production and looks to be a fantastic one this year as well.

Of course all good things must come to an end and so must half time. Back to the game. My hope for all is that we can come together and share in this annual event and have fun doing it. Personally I would love to extend some helpful facts for your viewing pleasure. When it comes to betting on the Superbowl, My money says that you should ride with the Colts. I see them kicking the (Bear)shit out of the Bears by 17 points or more. So bet with them unless some one offers you 20 points to do otherwise. .Then by all means bet on the Bears. The Bears could lose by 17 points and you still win. Also winning money from legally placed bets on the game is fun, but if you bet sexual favors everyone wins....

There you have it. My final wish for Super Bowl XLI is that you will find a special niche where you can fit in and enjoy some unnecessary roughness with your favorite Cheerleader, Quarterback ... or Tight End...

Year

Only a small handful of gay erotica directors have achieved "above the title" name recognition, and LaRue is one of them. Despite suffering a mild heart attack in March 2004, LaRue maintains a busy work schedule that includes hosting parties and award shows, and making personal appearances across the United States and in Europe. And the iconic LaRue is a permanent fixture at such mega-events as Folsom in San Francisco and "Southern Decadence" in New Orleans.

Having helmed literally hundreds of gay porn films since 1988, LaRue in 2003 also began to direct straight porn for colossus Vivid Video and quickly became a favorite among female stars, particularly Jenna Jameson. As a gay man, LaRue approached women with a sensitivity and genuine admiration that male straight porn directors often lacked. In addition, years of dealing with outsized personalities on the gay side gave LaRue the ability to handle straight porn's biggest divas (male and female).

For some time, LaRue divided her attention between Vivid Video and her own Rascal Video, distributed by another company she co-owns, Channel 1 Releasing. Apart from the popular Live And Raw live streaming video feeds (which included the now-shuttered Live And Raw Hotel), LaRue is expanding her empire to a branded line of dildos and other toys, as well as books, calendars and other merchandise. Rascal Video "Exclusive" models are among the most visible gay porn performers in the industry. Current exclusives include Benjamin Bradley, Luca DiCorso, Jan Fischer, and Johnny Hazzard (2005). In 2006, LaRue added to her empire with the acquisition of All Worlds Video. And Chi Chi is also an accomplished DJ, performing at many gay-themed events throughout the year.

As a member of the adult industry, Chi Chi has used her star power to promote condom use both in videos and in private. Not only is she very vocal about safer sex, but she left Vivid Video in February 2006 over their change to a "condom optional" policy.

LaRue makes her way to Texas next week, so we decided to get the gal on the phone and chat a bit:

Your blog entry for today focuses on the weather - and we all know that you were one half of The Weather Gals back home in Minnesota. What is it with you and temperatures?

Because the world we live in seems to be a bit fucked up right now. When there are ice storms that keep planes from leaving Texas and I go home to Minnesota at Christmas and there's not a drop of snow on the ground and the temperatures are in the 40's it's a little scary. I talk about it because our government is screwed up and we have a screwed up President who doesn't care about anything but getting oil and sending people to war. So that's why I talk about the temperature.

You've got six – SIX – Best Director awards....Spielberg has gotta be jealous, honey! What is it about you as a director that garners such acclaim?

I think it really stems down to that I can make really dirty, sexy, SAFE hot movies. And let's be frank...a lot of self promotion!

You've changed the face of gay pornography and, according to most, are "the best known, and perhaps the most prolific, gay porn director." What does Mama think?

I think that's great because I'm accomplishing what I set out to do. I'm always trying to change myself and do new things. Now that I'm DJing instead of just going and performing it's keeps things fresh for myself as well as other people.

How did the DJ thing start?

I'm a huge music freak. I like everything from Rock to Country, Pop...the only thing I don't like are the-you know-the tweaker, one-long-song thing, which makes me wanna tear my face off! I would go into these clubs and think "you know this music is just not fun." And I really like the feeling of power. You're in control of the crowd's mood. I like to go all over the place and pull out a song like the Go-Go's "Head Over Heels" and watch the young kids get off to it and the people my age teaching them how to clap in the right places. It's just fun. And let's face it. I'm a 47 year-old bitch and gotta have fun!

What's Johnny Hazzard really like?

Johnny Hazzard is extremely shy, very calm and mellow. I call him my little hippie boy because he's just very down to earth...a sweetheart. And just as lovely in person and he is in pictures.

You've said that, to be successful in adult entertainment, actors need to be a bit of an exhibitionist. What else do you look for in your stars?

The willingness to let yourself go and put yourself out there. You know you don't have to be the most beautiful person to be a fabulous porn star. I think I've worked with a lot if guys who are visually stunning, and in a picture they look like a statue. But in a performance they are just dead wood. And some guys who might not have the best body or the biggest dick but that can give you one kick ass sex performance. To me that's more important than standing there looking beautiful.

Tell me a little about the casting process. What's involved?

I've been making films over 20 years, over 400 films. And it used to be, you know before the internet, people would either have to mail you pictures or have to come to your house and take pictures, which would sometimes be a terrifying experience because people would show up at my door kinda like on American Idol, some 53 year-old man weighing 300 pounds you know; but I never made anyone feel bad. I always let them come in and took the pictures. But I always said I should have everybody that I ever took polaroids of sign a model release and paid them a dollar and I could have made the most incredible coffee table book ever. (laughs) You know call it SO YOU THINK YOU CAN DO PORN... It would have been the most amazing book ever cuz, hunnie I got some real winners! But I never wanted to let anyone leave feeling bad about themselves. You know...and now days I get 20-30 emails a day from guys wanting to do porn and if I'm lucky maybe one or two a week will be worthy of contacting back.

You've been a champion of condom use in all of your films, even having gone so far as to leave Vivid Video because of their "condom optional" policy. What else does Chi Chi stand for...feel passionate about.

I'm passionate about my friends. I have the best friends in the world. I'm not a relationship queen, I've never really had a boyfriend, a steady relationship. I've always felt that my relationship was with my friends. I'm passionate about my business, running Channel 1 and Rascal Video. And now that we've purchased All Worlds Video, that makes my company the largest gay adult entertainment business in the world, which is pretty daunting. It's a great feeling to own all those movies that I put so much work into. And of course my family. I love going home to Minnesota...and now I'm passionate about my DJing.

Who's your absolute, hands down favorite adult entertainer?

Probably Al Parker. He's not with us anymore and I had the pleasure and honor of meeting him. His real name was Drew and he was one of THE greatest people and before I got into the porn industry I used to swoon looking at his pictures because he was just gorgeous. And when I met him in person we just instantaneously connected and became friends and my lust and passion kinda went to the way side more for a friendship kind of love.

And you are coming to San Antonio? It's been a while, no?

Actually it has. I love Texas and I probably performed at the Wild Club in San Antonio 6 or 7 times when Randy Cunniff had that. But this is my first time to be at Heat so I'm really excited. And Randy is always fun to work with He really cares about the talent he brings in and it's always done up right.

Chi-Chi will be guest DJ at HEAT on Friday, Feb 9th. Then on Saturday she's pulling out all the stops with her two new Texan porn discoveries, Rascal Video Exclusive's Josh Vaughn and Cole Ryder along with Colt Video's Skye Woods. It's all party of Heat's 5-YEAR ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

If you've ever been to South Beach in Miami, then you know that the sandy sex sunspot is renowned the world over for its beautiful men wearing the minimum of apparel. If you've ever been to South Beach in Houston, then you know that the perfect party palace is known the world over for its beautiful men wearing the minimum of apparel. We think we spot a trend here! And, because we know that there are always skeptics in our audience – you know who you are! – we provide for you the photographic evidence to substantiate our claim. From DJ Adam and Kawika to Matt and John, who appears with a shy and demure Daryl, there's never a shortage of perfect pecs, thrilling treasure trails and packed pouches to ogle and admire. Why, it's a veritable mantourage of magnificent men, doncha know. Which is why we're always there....'cause we just adore mantourages. And if you think there's beefcake bareness to be seen now, just wait until the fab fun house hosts its incredible Mardi Gras Ball on Saturday, February 17th – an event which promises beads and masks and an incredible amount of decadence. And, which means even more pecs, trails and pouches....take a wild guess where we'll be....

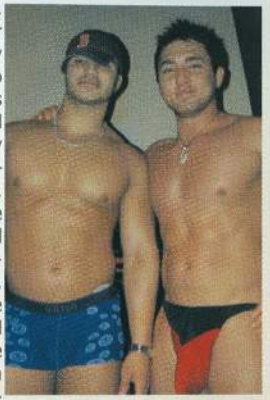
Speaking of pouches, we happened to wander into JR's last Sunday night, and spotted two proudly protruding ones attached to Davier and Kyle, so we naturally dropped everything – including our cock-tails, girls...which was a true mess – so that we could capture the magnificence for posterity. Lana Blake was in the picture too, but we had to edit her out because the position she was in just wouldn't be flattering to the dishy diva. Kofi was, of course, always the lady. Fortunately, we had our trusty measuring tape with us, and were able to prove that Kyle's pouch did match his shoe size, thereby validating the old adage and confirming our belief that there's just no point in dating anyone that doesn't wear at least a size eleven....ahem.



And while we're on the subject of shoe sizes, we promised that we wouldn't mention that the thrilling threesome that we spotted at the Mining Company the other night have a combined shoe size of 32. Now, we know that Aleks wears a demure size 8, which means 24 additional sizes in there to split between Victor and Luis. All of which could explain why Aleks has such a huge smile on her beautiful face. Now, if we throw staffers Jose and Joey into the equation....well, we find ourselves a tad bit farklemptf and unable to complete the calculations. We just know that the staff at Nordstrom's shudders whenever they show up en masse....

Shuddering is exactly what you'll find us doing whenever we pop into Male U Wear to shop for new unmentionables because, invariably, there's some studly hunk in there trying on a pair on underwear and modeling it in front of the mirror and we completely lose our focus and end up leaving with nothing because we ourselves couldn't try anything on because...well, you understand of course. That doesn't stop us from shopping there, though – TRUST! Especially now that they have the exclusive Houston area franchise for Aussie Bum underwear, and also stock a lovely little item known as the Wonder Brief, which does for a man's package what the Wonder Bra has been doing for women's busts for years. Proof positive comes in the cruizy CC photo taken of the brief on one of the customers patronizing the shop. What? You don't think it's all that big? Well, considering it's on a woman....imagine what it'll do for YOUR anatomy!

Out in the Gay Southwest...remember last week, when we showed you a photo of the penile projectionists at La Academia? Remember how bowled over you were, and how you dashed post-haste to the Gessner gayness to view the spectacular assets of same? Well, babies, you weren't the only ones, 'cause Arturo, Candy, Luis and Juan headed out there so fast that they left their tacos half-eaten. Of course, when one's appetite is for something decidedly beefier, it's no wonder that they opted for the tubular assets of Latin Boy over beans and salsa. Gaea knows we always do.... Now, if we can just convince Juan to project his penile, we'll be full.

Just because we have an affinity for men certainly doesn't mean that we don't admire and love the ladies, so when we ran into the fab foursome of Laura, Alicia, Laura and Letty at Inergy just the other night, we immediately found ourselves in an admiring and loving state of mind. We also found ourselves admiring the cover of our very own little magazine, which we hadn't yet seen because the ones at another club had been ripped right off. Granted, the shot of DJ Seth Cooper was beautiful, but really....

Back in the 'hood, we dropped into Viviana's to partake of a little male pageantry at the Mr. Viviana's contest, and Holy Enchiladas Batman are we glad we did – especially when the winner turned out to be the oh-so-handsome and hugely-talented Osiel, pictured during the club-wear portion of the competition. The only thing we regretted was that there wasn't a swimwear category, but based on our observations Osiel might not have been able to find anything that would fit him, if you catch our drifts. Maybe board shorts? Nah, probably not....While we were there, we visited with our very dear friend Viv, and finally got to meet her very dear friend, Javier – which means that we're now all very good friends. We leave it to you to decide how to categorize what sort of relationship we and Osiel now enjoy. And we do mean enjoy!

Someone that obviously enjoys what they do is the inimitable Gia, one of the cast of lovelies that grace the stage at George each Sunday night. Now, Gia is someone that we haven't had the pleasure of knowing, so when we heard wonderful things about her we twirled right over to the club for a good old fashioned sit-down...and honeys, she's everything that we'd heard about her and a good deal more. What a hoot! Gotta be the hair. Suffice it to say that we now make it a point to drop into George to see her. Well, and George too, of course. Now, that's someone we've had the pleasure of knowing for years....and years....okay, and years.

We got a lovely new gadget the other day...one of those foot measuring devices that they have in shoe stores...and decided to try it out at the BRB, 'cause you know how much we love to measure cowboys. Well, after a few hours on the patio, we came up with four men that require nothing but special orders from Lucchese. Their names are John, Ricky, Fernando and David, and we would be remiss if we didn't share with you that John is by far and hands down the winner in the over enormous category – which means, of course, that we jotted his phone number down on our napkin, our palm, the inside of our thigh....everywhere we could to make sure we didn't lose it. Him we're meeting at Sheplers for the big try-on.....not that we have anything against our other winners, of course, but we believe in a really big bang for our bucks, doncha know.

Imagine a place where you can view tempting morsels of maleness being carried around in the arms of admiring patrons. Now, imagine a place where those tempting morsels of maleness just also happen to be named Michael and happen to be potent potable pourers and happen to be in the arms of Ronnie, and you'll be imagining exactly what our Cruise Camera captured at EJ's the other night. One of the many things that we love about Michael is the fact that, being a hirsute hunkling as he is, we can always floss once we're through eating...there goes our outside voice again. We also like that we can hook our leash in his nipple ring for easy walking down Montrose Boulevard. Now all we have to do is check his shoe size....

Over at In & Out, we ran into three luscious lugs by the name of Joshie, Russell and Jessie that we're trying to convince to let us carry them the way Ronnie carries Michael, but thus far to no avail. We tried to convince them that it was the latest trend from Thailand...sort of like a human rickshaw, but that didn't convince them. Then, we tried to convince them that it was a newly-found position from the Kama Sutra, and that it would provide them with the best sex they'd ever had...still not budging. Then, we told them we'd pay them, and they leapt into our arms faster than a 1950's housewife that'd seen a mouse. Once we recover from the full-frontal assault on our hernia, we intend to have a word or two with these gentlemen. Oh, yes, they'll definitely be hearing from us....

We just love multi-tasking, and there's practically nobody better at the art-form then studly staffer Michael, over at Tony's Corner Pocket. This dapper dude, you see, not only assists the club's mixologists in things that need assisting with, but he also takes to the stage and reveals his assets and many other attributes for the admiring masses. And all we wanted was to know what kind of underwear comes between him and his Calvins. It's nice to know that Tony always super-sizes everything, as evidenced by the massive swizzle stick we witnessed peeping out from under the hem of his boxers. Needless to say, we immediately returned to the bar and ordered for a double. Michael was kind enough to stir it for us....

Finally, Space CITEA would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the newly-crowned and –titled royalty of the Royal Sovereign and Imperial Court of the Single Star, Empress Shy Anne and Emperor Chris Beck. These two talented and capable monarchs will lead their court in a round of fundraising events and activities during the coming year for the benefit and betterment of the community as a whole, and we salute them on their ascension. Now, where'd you get that dress Shy? It's divine!

Cowtown Tea

This weekend there will be plenty to do in good ol' Cowtown. Don't forget, this is the last weekend for the 111th Annual Ft. Worth Stock Show and Rodeo. Throw on your cowboy drag and head on over. There's hot cowboys everywhere, and several have been spotted out at you know where late at night. Just ask Shamoo. She'll tell you all about it!

Last week you got to taste some mighty fine Chili at the Cowtown Leather min Chili cook-off at Stampede. Well, this Sunday its Chili again as the Ft. Worth chapter of TGRA hosts their Chili cook-off. We're not going to say who's chili we think will be the best-tasting. But we did hear that Rhonda Mae was seen passing out Gas-X! Don't forget that applications for Miss Stampede are still available and the contest is NEXT Saturday the 10th. We know that the lovely Jacqueline Chatelaine is hostess for the event (pictured below in full boy bloom)

Besides those strappin' dancers over at Copa, there's also some mighty fine drag going on. We stopped in last Sunday and caught up with Miss Gay Ft. Worth herself, Chanel LaMasters. Also in the show were Karicias (MC) and the talents of Alexa Torres and the amazingly life-like Erika Douglas.

Big "D" Tea

Need a ride? Purchase your raffle tickets at the Dallas Eagle for a chance to drive away with a brand new 2007 Honda CR-V on February 20th. Proceeds benefit AIDS Services of Dallas. Raffle sponsored by the United Court of the Lonestar Empire and John Eagle Honda of Dallas. Raffle tickets are only $60 and limited to total sales of 750 tickets, making the odds for winning pretty good! Have you driven by the Eagle lately? Construction is going pretty well and it shouldn't be too long!

Have you been to those hot Latin drag shows over at Kaliente? We popped in for the Sunday late show and caught the lovely Karlota backstage. Sister is a goddess and certainly does a fab show every Sunday along with Nicky and rest of the Kali Gurls! Down the street at their sister club Escandalo, those Saturday night VIP parties carry on. You know everyone's a VIP in Escandalo on a Sat.

How we love to see a good man blow. And we did just that last week at Alexandre's, where we were able to share some Birthday cheer with Robert. If you happened to miss the actual birthday event, you can always pop in any day for Happy Hour at the popular Cedar Springs cabaret and have all the slinging "cheer" you like. But she gets off at 8.

You know everyone thinks Buli is all about coffee and logging onto Manhunt for free. But did you know that they've got some great food? Last week we think about half of the gay volleyball teams in Dallas took over the place after practice. Nothing better than a nice healthy fare from Scott and Allen to keep from wasting a good workout. And yes, the coffee is some of the best in Dallas. Just ask our two cutie-pie muffins Joey and Tomas.

Capital CiTEA

We always think it's appropriate to begin our column with a bit of beefcake, and if that beefcake just happens to be practically naked, well then all the better. The practically naked beefcake that we feature for your enjoyment is the hugely-talented – really big – Jeff, who reveals all and sports very little at Oilcan Harry's several nights of the week. You'll notice that the luscious lug is packing more than a wallop in his oh-so-briefs – and that was just a few seconds after he took to the dance box. You'll also notice that we've cropped the photo at a certain place. We humbly apologize for that, but we have such limited space in our column...WOW! Talk about your whoppers....

Speaking of whoppers, you have by now seen the incredible image that Lobo is running in their ads in conjunction with upcoming Valentine's Day gift-giving celebrations, and we'd like to tell you that we have met the massive man that bares his bum for our enjoyment. We said we'd like to tell you that, but as of this writing all of our many, many outreach efforts have proved fruitless. That doesn't mean we'll stop trying, let us assure you. Hopefully, Enrique will take pity on us and arrange an introduction. It is, after all, almost Valentine's Day, and our tongues get so hard just looking at those glorious glutes....

About a year and a half ago, some bitch by the name of Katrina huffed and puffed and blew New Orleans away. As a result of her actions, the Crescent City lost one of its most spectacular assets....a sizzling hot and sinfully sexy man by the name of David. Well, New Orleans' loss is our gain, because this devastatingly delicious man now lives right here in Austin, and pours potent potables for his newly-acquired legion of fans – which includes us. For the one or two of you that don't know, David also happens to be a professor and a musician, and he blows the crowds away a la Katrina twice a month when he performs with The Guise at the club. While we love a man with a brain, we would be completely untruthful if we didn't tell you that it was his gorgeous eyes and groovy grin that won us over.... Needless to say, we've asked about flight lessons... and frequent flier miles....and the Mile High Club....

We were just a tad bit disappointed the other evening when we went for our nightly David Green viewing because neither he nor Mac was at Charlie's. Granted, there was a ton of other stuff to do at the party palace, but it just doesn't feel right if Big D isn't on hand to enhance the scenery. Of course, we did find ourselves being made to feel quite at home when we got into a stimulating conversation with the handsome men and gore gal that we captured in our CC photo...in fact, we were almost made to forget all about David and Mac....but, to be fair, they were like a fine Cabernet and we were in the mood for a longneck...or two. One would almost think we were stalking David, the way we go on....

Finally and on the subject of stalking, if we should ever be so inclined to take up that felonious hobby, we have to admit that we might actually do it for one particularly stunning example of male pulchritude by the name of Alonso, who we caught up with at Rain when we were trying to get out of same...precipitation wise, of course. We had first seen Alonso along 4th Street, then in a few other dance halls along the strip, but finally managed to catch up with him at Rain. And we were so glad we did....now, if we can make these encounters seem less criminal. Just kidding.... you're safe, Alonso. For now... Kidding....just kidding.

Alamo CiTEA

We know that none of you are probably as old as we are and, therefore, are probably not old enough to remember New York's glamorous Studio 54, but we are proud to admit that we survived both that club and the ensuing years and remember well all the elements that made it the place to see and be seen for the world's glitterati. You can imagine our delight, then, when SA's Essence hosted it's a Night at 54 recently, and you can be sure that we and our trusty little Cruise Camera were on hand to capture all the excitement. Honeys, we felt right at home the moment we walked through the door, and it didn't even take blasts of angel dust through the ventilation system to do it. No, sillies....Essence didn't blast the angel dust – 54 used to. Jeeze. At any rate, the club was packed to the neon rafters with a bevy of babes and beaus that gathered to relive the fun times 'neath the silver moon, and we naturally captured a few of them to share with you – including the terrific trio of Marco, Corky and Fernando, who looked as though they'd stepped right out of a Saturday Night Fever cast reunion, and the scintillating Si Si St. James, who we caught in a questionable moment with faux fur-clad James...who was demanding to know why the disco diva loves the nightlife so. Well, if we can't have you....

Up the Strip a ways at Heat, we happened to run into the man that moistens our dreams and oft-mentioned A-Lister, Serge, who has managed to break our heart once again. It seems that the sexy man about town is newly-single and didn't call us immediately to arrange a timely tryst – or, at least, a modeling of his underwear collection. No, instead he was spending the evening in the arms of massively-muscled Derrick instead of us...of course, having seen ALL of Big D's muscles, we can certainly understand why. The dynamic duo was on hand to see the magnetic Melissa Crawford perform, and now we're doubly depressed because she looks so much better in that outfit than we do. But, after one mega-shot from one of the club's divine drink dispensers we were able to wish Serge and Derrick all the best, and even managed to tip Ms. Crawford too....which makes us wonder what in hell they put in that shot.

Whenever we feel a little blue, we always like to go shopping to lift ourselves out of the doldrums that we find ourselves in. And, one of the places that we just love to plop our plastic down in is On Main – Off Main, the delightful boutique and emporium located smack dab in the heart of gay SA. They've got all sorts of gadgets and gifties and other gay baubles that we always manage to find just the right place for in our fagulous swankienda, and we always make it a point to stop and chat with the delightful Oscar, who knows just what we need to put a smile back on our face. Oscar is in the throws of coping with the mad rush of the Valentines Day crowd, but he's always willing to take time to visit with us and all of his other many admiring customers. So much better than those Hollywood Oscars, doncha know.

One other place that we always love to whip out our wallet at is the Encore and Zebraz group of adult entertainment emporiums, and one of the biggest reasons that we just love to whip that old wallet out is because of the chain's owner, Glen, who's just about as gorgeous as they come, doncha think? Hell, babies, forget about all of the periodicals and calendars and such....just give us a sack full of him, please! Really...PLEASE! Our CC caught up with Glenn and two of his stupendous staffers, T-Boy and Andy, during our recent visit to the NE Loop location, and though we couldn't convince them to ring Glen up on the register, we still left the erotique completely satisfied.

Speaking of completely satisfied, that's the way we always feel after one of Sweet Savage's performances at the Saint – performances that we've been fortunate enough to view for more years than the dancin' diva would like for us to admit. Trumormongers are mongering that the Texas Tornado and former Texas Entertainer of the Year will be traveling to Tulsa soon for the Midwest Entertainer of the Year competition, a competition which could see her Louisville-bound for National EOY in July. And, she'll also be one of the special guests at the upcoming Miss Gay San Antonio America pageant, being held at the club on February 18th. Girls, with all of this activity no wonder she's still a size 8....10....okay, fine, 12.

While we're on the subject of history, did you know that this very Valentine's Day, Dick and the dudes at 2015 will be celebrating 24 years of providing luscious libations to the citizens of the Alamo City? h Celebrating his own natalversary at the club just this past week was too-too-precious Mike, who our lascivious lens captured mid-toast with Richard and TWT's very own Mario Mares. So, that's a double for Dick and the dudes, a triple for Mike...and, we're sloshed. But, responsibly sloshed....

One of our very favorite people in the world also happens to be one of the city's most compassionate and giving men – and a cutie-patootie and snappy dresser to boot. His name is Robert, and he's a caseworker at the San Antonio AIDS Foundation. When he's not behind his desk at the Grayson Street SAAF headquarters, you can find him out in the community making a difference for all the members of our community, especially those in need. He's one of our city's shining stars, and Alamo CiTEA salutes him!

Finally, we mentioned La Rick at the Annex a few weeks ago as being the person to go to for just about anything that you might need, but did you also know that super staffer BDR is equally plugged-in to the pulse of the city, and can always point you in the right direction – especially when you've had one of Ruben's special happy hour cock-tails and can't tell which way is up. We'd also like to advise you that we recently spotted the beautiful Ruben with an equally dee-licious hunk of the studly persuasion at the HEB on Olmos and, based on the contents of their cart, they were definitely planning an intimate dinner for two. Naturally, we wanted to offer to pay for the entire meal if they'd only add a third place-setting to the table, but the moment never presented itself. Dammit.

Pageant TEA

In the really, REALLY old school department, JEMS Productions has announced that the upcoming 2007 Miss Gay San Antonio America pageant will be a commemoration of the Valentine's Day night 30 years ago that saw the renowned Pauletta Leigh crowned as the official symbol of excellence in the Alamo City. Thirty years ago....good lord. Most of us were wearing size eights that long ago, honey. The pageant will be held at the Saint on Sunday, February 18, and special guests for the night of glam and glitter include Miss Gay San Antonio 1978, Marissa Marlowe, who is jetting-in from San Diego; Miss Gay San Antonio 1979, Monica Layne, who is using her frequent flier miles to wing her way here from Atlanta; Miss Gay San Antonio 1981, Jacqui De Shawn, who will be Greyhounding it from Austin; as well as Miss Gay San Antonio 1993 and former Miss Gay America, Catia Lee Love, who will be motoring from her home base in Oklahoma, and a host of current and former titleholders that have brought so much honor to the River City. Trumormongers are mongering that the currently-reigning monarch, Kelis Elliot, will even be doing a high-wire act. And, of course, our very own Miss Gay Texas America, Jade Di Santi, will be on hand, as well. Those same trumormongers have mongered further to stir that there will be a very special body without a mind on the judge's panel. Oh, and you should also know that the entire weekend leading up to the pageant will be a tribute to the clubs that have made 1430 North Main such a beacon in the art of satire, pantomime and the dance (as Naomi Sims used to say,) with Friday night being a Sunset Boulevard reunion spectacular, and Saturday paying homage to the Copa and Paper Plate. Get lots of rest, babies, 'cause it's gonna be a fun-filled weekend!

And, if that's not enough to blow the beads off your evening gown, Kenny Bales, JEMS Productions and This Week in Texas Magazine are just pleased as pumps to announce that the Lone Star state will, once again, have an official preliminary to National Entertainer of the Year when Texas EOY returns to the Saint showbar after an oh-too-long absence on Sunday, June 24th, when the stunning and supremely-talented Erica Andrews, the currently-reigning National EOY, will surrender her Texas EOY to one very lucky glam goddess. The new title-holder will join a long line of incredible and beautiful entertainers that includes Amazing Grace, Tandi Andrews, Sweet Savage, Coco, Whitney Paige, Maya Douglas, Laken Edwards and Edna Jean Robinson – all of whom have done our home state proud at national competition in Louisville, Kentucky. For those of you that may not remember, Entertainer of the Year in Texas was started by This Week in Texas Magazine as a voting honorarium that elected the likes of Ernestine, Donna Day, Naomi Sims, Hot Chocolate and Tasha Kohl to the premiere spot at the top of the heap, and witnessed city titles going to such famed femme mimics as Pauletta Leigh, Lady Shawn, Dietra Allen, Dion Martell and Lindsy Love. And, the same trumormongers that mongered about details surrounding the MGSA pageant in two weeks are further mongering that this incredible event will not only see the return of former TWT Entertainer of the Year, Hot Chocolate, but also the return to the limelight of the one and only National Entertainer of the Year Emeritus, Tasha Kohl. Girls, get ready....it's gonna be fierce!

MODELS/ESCORTS

TWT POLICY

Because prostitution is illegal in Texas, State Law prohibits the placement of any such ads. Therefore, TWT policy stipulates that we will not and cannot knowingly accept any advertisements suggesting solicitaion. It's the law. Also State Law prohibits nonlicensed massage therapists from using terms such as "massage," "Swedish, ""accupressure, ""Shiatsu, ""reflexology, "body rub, ""back rub, ""body massage," or any term which indicates bodily contact.

LICENSED MASSEURS

STATE CERTIFICATION POLICY

Texas law clearly requires that only bona fide, state-certified masseurs can be listed in this category. Therefore, TWT policy requires that all masseurs must publish their state-certification number within their advertisements and that a photocopy of such license be on file at TWT.
