HAPPY HOUR 4 - 8pm

DEAR HELEN

Dear Helen,

I want to take a vacation without my lover. How can I tell him?

Signed,
Loner

Dear Loner,

Call him from FIRE ISLAND. I would discuss it with him first, it could end a good relationship.

Signed,
Helen

Dear Helen,

My lover and I are having problems with our sex life. What is your advise on 3 ways?

Signed,
Sexless

Dear Sexless,

The more the merrier. 3 ways can be a problem when lovers are involved. There is a great jealousy factor to think about. Be careful.

Signed,
Helen

Dear Helen,

My parents are coming to visit me for Thanksgiving. They don't know that my roommate is really my lover. What can I do?

Signed,
Trukey

Dear Turkey,

Hide the K Y and the dirty books. If you don't want them to know, don't hold hands during breakfast, and no making out while watching T. V.. With a little extra effort you can probably pull it off alright. Good luck

Signed,
Helen

Hi gang, as you all know last week was the first issue of Big D magazine. When you start anything new, especially something you have never done before, you are going to make some mistakes. And boy did we ever. Our big boo-boo was on the ad for the Wild Crowd Saloon. Dear Jack and staff we are very sorry. We screwed up but it won't happen again.

DEAR HELEN con't.

We got a few addresses wrong but we got all of that taken care of this week. Thank each and everyone of you for your support and understanding.

There's not much gossip this week so I will save it until next week. Don't forget to send me all of your problems and questions, to the address on the cover of the magazine.

LOVE YA,
Helen

POEM OF THE WEEK
—DREAMS—

As I sit listening to the cool falling rain,
My mind drifts ever so slowly from reality
I hear a voice, a voice so sweet and tender,
That life seems to gain a vision of serenity.

The calmness of his face appears
Through misty cloudy haze.
So beautifully unique and soft,
To touch it sets my heart ablaze.

He comes to me in solemn dreams,
And gives to me the comfort of his smile.
He looks to me for his serenity,
I'd give without denial.

At times I think I like of him,
The thing that means so much.
The thing that sends me flying,
His warm and tender touch.

A Touch so greatly meaningful,
My head screams out in pain.
A more quiet, self-reliant soul,
Controls the inner most of me.

As I slowly wake to see him there,
With warmth no other will compare.
I feel like the sun and all its worth,
Wishing only to be there.
