The two religious satires which are being offered at the Alliance Studio Theatre are no exception.

In "Tent Meeting," a black comedy about religion, an evangelist, his grown son, daughter and her child are fleeing authorities who are searching for the baby, which has been kidnapped from a home for the physically handicapped. The trio travel to Canada by night in a beat up trailer, with the fanatical Rev. Eddie interpreting every experience in terms of Biblical events.

In "Illuminati," a pair of card-carrying ministers of the Church of Gospel Ministry perform a mock service complete with de rigeur miracles and healings, in a church of the near future as the world is coming to an end. Here, Rev. Eddie and his hunchbacked helpmate Lawrence play a series of vignettes and flashbacks in which they examine life and morality from every conceivable angle.

Tickets for all performances are $6. Patrons who purchase a ticket for both plays at the same time will receive a 15% discount on both tickets. For tickets call 892-2414. Performances are Tuesday through Saturday at 8pm and Sunday at 2:30pm.

Both plays have been previously produced by the Southern Theatre Conspiracy at Nexus Theatre, and are revived especially for the Alliance Studio Theatre run.

"MUSIC MAN" OPENS NOVEMBER 30th AT ALLIANCE

"Seventy-Six Trombones Led the Big Parade" — and they lead Atlantans right into the holiday season at the Alliance Theatre, in a rousing production of Meredith Willson's "The Music Man" (November 30th through January 1st).

Festive, foot-tapping music, and a genial, unpretentious story about life in a small Iowa town just after the turn of the century distinguish this delightful and hilarious musical which is all-American as apple pie.

"The Music Man" ran for 173 weeks on Broadway, won five Tony Awards, the Drama Critics Circle Award and the Outer Circle Award, and was featured on the covers of both Life and Time. In the 25 years since that first opening night, "The Music Man" has become a sure-fire favorite of audiences everywhere.

In this charming musical, Willson drew on boyhood memories of small town life and big time brass bands in Mason City, Iowa. The title character is a disarming con-artist, a certain Professor Harold Hill, who steps off the train in River City, Iowa one fine day, sizes up its gullible inhabitants at a glance, and after alerting the town's rather dour adult population to the dangers of pool halls and dime novels, proceeds to charm them into buying uniforms and band instruments that he has no intention of supplying. The plan misfires before "Prof." Hill can run off with the money when the townspeople learn the score — and when this smooth-talking salesman finds he has fallen in love with Marian the town librarian and doesn't want to leave. Memorable songs — from "Seventy-Six Trombones" to "Goodnight My Someone," "Marian the Librarian," "Till There Was You," and "Trouble" — make this one of America's greatest musicals, and the bountiful production values of the Alliance production will entrance every theatre goer. An honestly sentimental script, lively music, and all star cast and sumptuous sets and costumes are sure to make this a holiday hit.

The Alliance Theatre's holiday musical has become a festive Atlanta tradition for many, and for the last five years Days Inns of America, Inc. has been an integral part of that tradition.

The Alliance is renowned for its lavish productions and "The Music Man," with a cast of 35, a full orchestra/band, sumptuous costumes and an elaborate set including an antique automobile, promises 1983 audiences no less.

Tickets are $8.50 and $13.50 ($12.50 adn $16 for the Opening, Friday and Saturday nights.) For tickets, call the Alliance Ticket Service at 892-2414 from 9am to 5pm weekdays, noon to 4pm on week-ends. The box office window is open 11-5 weekdays, and noon to 4 on weekends. Hours for both phone and windwo are extended to 8pm on show nights (Tuesday through Saturday adn most Sundays during the run.)

CHRISTMAS BOO-BOO

Last week in our article on the Atlanta Business and Professional Guild's annual Christmas party, this year entitled "A Christmas Presence," we misprinted one of the telephone numbers for information. The correct numbers, with an addition; are 872-1922 (the Guild office), 223-5183, or 874-4892.

Everyone is invited to join the Guild Sunday evening, December 11th, from 6pm to 11pm at Illusions with entertain-ment by Liz Spraggins. Tickets are $15 for Members and $20 for non-members. In addition, unwrapped toy gifts will be accepted at the party to be donated to the Georgia Retardation Center.

BUFFALO CHIPS FEATURED ON WRFG

Join "Southern Gay Dreams" this Sunday, November 27th, for a review of Atlanta's own cloggers, The Buffalo Chips. Organized more than two years ago by a group of men taking lessons, the group has developed quite a reputation for expertise in the art of clogging. These men have performed at various locations around the country and, in particular, the Southeast. Join us as we look at their past, their present, and their future. Information on clogging lessons will also be provided!

Southern Gay Dreams is broadcast every Sunday from 8pm to 9pm on WRFG, 89.3 on your FM radio dial.

SARAH DASH AND LOW DOWN DIRTY RHYTHM

Megatone Records has announced the release of its newest R & B single, "Low Down Dirty Rhythm" by the dynamic vocal stylist, Sarah Dash.

Like many great artists, Sarah's musical beginnings are rooted in the church. "I was raised to be my own person and have a good sense of right and wrong. It is this instinct that has guided me through the music business. The industry has a lot of really good people and I tend to gravitate towards them." When she is not touring in the States or in Europe, Sarah makes her home in Manhattan and is still very close to her family and friends. Sarah loves every aspect of the music business, "from being totally disciplined in the studio to total freedom performing on stage."

Sarah is probably best remembered as one third of the legendary rock/soul group, "LaBelle." When the group split up several years ago, Sarah decided to pursue a solo career. Her debut album was produced by Don Kirshner for CBS Records and contained the international chart-topping hit, "Sinner Man." This LP established Sarah's name as a star in her own right. Currently, Sarah appears on Nile Rogers' solo LP for Atlanta Records. She shares the vocals with Nile on the ballad, "This is My Love Song for You."

Sarah was excited and honored to be collaboration on "Low Down Dirty Rhythm" with another superstar, Patrick Cowley. It was written and produced by Patrick, and was one of his last projects before his untimely death. Another rising star, featured as guitarist on the single, is James "Tip" Wirrick, who recently received much acclaim as the producer and writer of Sylvester's top-selling LP, "All I Need." In fact, all of the session players on "Low Down Dirty Rhythm" are former sidemen for Sylvester. "Working in the studio on this single was a very postitive experience for me. They let me have complete artistic control right down to the mix."

"Low Down Dirty Rhythm" is total funk and Sarah's four and a half octave voice propels its sensual, driving beat. It is a refreshingly contemporary song that goes straight to the heart of black music, which is a treat among the sometimes formulate sound that is heard today. "Singing 'Low Down Dirty Rhythm' was a real emotional release for me, as emotion is the essence of R & B music."

Sarah's opinion of the resurgence of dance is "people are working harder and life is producing more pressure — dancing is a great way of letting it all go."

Sarah has just completed a second single for Megatone Records which features a guest appearance by Megatone artist, Sylvester. Watch for its release in a few months. Plans for an album are already in the making.
