Hal Pouser of The Bartender School

Have you been thinking about a new career? Or maybe just thinking about a new part-time job to bring in a little extra change or keep you busy on those long winter evenings coming up? Well maybe you ought to go on down and talk to Hal Pouser at The Bartender's School about learning to be a bartender.

You probably think it looks simple; just pour in a shot of whiskey and add the mixer; but then what do you do when somebody asks for a Black Russian or a Sidecar or a Champayne Cocktail? Well Hal has all the answers and in a relatively short period of time and for a very reasonable amount of money he can teach you all the basics plus how to mix all of those exotic drinks. He has a one week course for those of you who can come during the day and a two week course for those who prefer to come to school in the evenings. And when you are finished he'll help you find a job.

Got any questions? Well just call Hal at 892-2860 or go by and see him any week day between noon and 9 PM. They are located at 1172 Peachtree, across from Colony Square.

AROUND TOWN

This past week has been a busy one with The Mr. Back Street Contest, The Roxanne Russell Concert and the Mr. Gay Teenage Atlanta Contest all taking place in three days. Watch for pictures from these events in one of the forthcoming editions of your Cruise Weekly Calendar.

Compared to all that activity and the Labor Day Festivities, this coming week is a relatively quiet one. The only special scheduled is Diamond Lil's September Song at the Hollywood Hot on Tuesday night, September 21st. Lil did a beautiful job with her special Anatomy of Diamond Lil last month and I'm sure she will do an equally good job this time.

The 2nd Annual Miss Macon Contest will be held at the We Three Lounge in Macon at 9 PM on Friday, September 24th. A number of contestants from Florida have entered in addition to some top Georgia talent and it should be a good show.

Speaking of Florida, Roski Fernandez and her Revue just got back from being the featured entertainment at the Grand Opening of El Goya, a beautiful new club in Tampa. They had a super time and told us that El Goya was a great club.

Coming up on Tuesday the 28th is another Mr. Buns Contest at the Hollywood Hot. Michael Moon who won the last one has left town for Daytona so the field is wide open. Whoever wins, it'll be fun.
