REVIEWED BY GARY LAIRD

SMART NEW YORKERS PROVIDE SMART LAUGHS FOR HOUSTON AND GALVESTON AUDIENCES IN 'MARY, MARY' AND 'SYLVIA'

Tiffany (Jentry Brown, l) is the new woman in the life of Bob (Robert Skehan, upper r), who bears the brunt of his ex-wife Mary's (Anne Quackenbush) put-downs in Mary, Mary.

Once upon a time, in the early sixties, smart New Yorkers dressed to the nines and paid $7.50 a head to see other smart New Yorkers say witty things to each other on the Broadway stage. Nowadays the same $7.50 (not including popcorn) will get you a seat in a multiplex for the latest action-adventure flick — two and a half hours of blood and guts and four-letter words. It was a kinder, gentler world, or so my mother tells me — I was a mere child. (All those who believe that please send your name, phone number and a recent photo.)

Anyway, should you want to relive that experience — and you should — catch Houston's Main Street Theater's production of Mary, Mary, currently held over until this Sunday, Nov. 24, at Galveston's Strand Theater. Jean (Please Don't Eat the Daisies) Kerr, a writer who specialized in this kind of sparkling, brittle comedy (and who, by the way, is given no bio space in the program, despite two blank pages, a deplorable practice more and more small theatre groups around town are engaging in), concocted Mary, Mary as a '60s soufflé of smart banter and risible situations, all delivered without so much as a centimeter of exposed skin or a single four-letter word. And it's funny.

The cast is up to the material. Anne Quackenbush as Mary gives us just the right mix of wisecracking New Yorker and vulnerable wife, while Robert Skehan as Bob (Mary's long-suffering ex) bears the brunt of Mary's constant barrage of put-downs. Jentry Brown delivers a delicious comic turn as Tiffany, the rich and health-conscious new woman in Bob's life. David Rigg as Bob's accountant and Brian Broome as the handsome movie-star-navy-buddy on the make for Mary round out this well-tuned cast.

The evening is a delight, and you leave the theatre a little happier, and maybe even a littler wiser, but you haven't had to work for it. It's a gift.

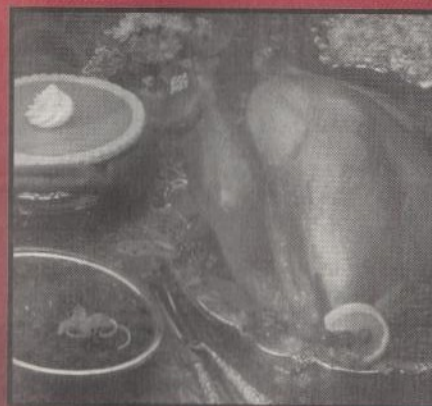

Now fast-forward about 35 years, and we have Sylvia, the Alley's current production on its arena stage. We're in New York again, with the same smart New Yorkers, but it's in the '90s, baby, and we've come a long way. Or have we? We have the same setting, the same characters, the same unending battle of the relationships. It seems we dress better, but have we really learned all that much? In Sylvia we have Kate (Annalee Jeffries) and husband Greg (Edmond Genest), and to complete the triangle we have Sylvia (Melissa Bowen), a stray dog of indeterminate pedigree who falls in love with Greg, which is okay, but when Greg falls back, Kate has had enough. It's The Other Woman with a twist, and it makes for some uproarious comedy, as they said back in the sixties.

The idea of a dog being played by an attractive young woman, and not only that, but a dog who communicates with both her master and his wife on a human level, stretches the credulity to new limits, but buy that and you enter a world you've always suspected but never before had the chance to witness. Melissa Bowen as Sylvia gives a flawless performance — as a dog. By shedding all vestiges of human restraint and inhibition, she totally convinces you that she is Sylvia. And in so doing, forces you to love her. I dare you to resist. You have no choice.

Tom [Stewart Clarke, l], a philosophical dog lover out in the park, and the Sylvia-struck Greg [Edmond Genest, c] are surprised to hear of Sylvia's [Melissa Bowen] interest in Bowser, Tom's studly dog, in Sylvia.

The lovely Annalee Jeffries is marvelous in her role as Kate — bitchy, acid-tongued, but fighting for her marriage against the most improbable adversary; Jeffries turns in a performance that is warm and touching, as well as comic. Edmond Genest as the smitten Greg is all over the stage as he wrestles with his allegiances — and his priorities.

The unexpected element in the cast is Stewart Clarke, who plays the fourth, fifth and sixth characters in the play. He first appears as Tom, a butch dog-lover who runs into Greg and Sylvia in the park, where Sylvia falls for his studly dog "Bowser" in a big way. When we see Clarke again, it's as Kate's old Vassar classmate Phyllis. Yes, Phyllis. His third role is Leslie, a marriage counselor of questionable gender who's been engaged to sort out Kate and Greg.

This reviewer sat down with Clarke over drinks after a recent performance. Dark hair, pleasant smile and eager to talk about his work. "This is my first interview," he volunteers. "So I don't quite know what to expect. A New York-based actor, he is originally from Florida. This is his debut with the Alley, and he is having a ball. "I love Houston," he says. "It reminds me of Florida. And the Alley is wonderful." This is his first drag role, and parts of it gave him trouble. "For one thing, that damn purse. It was a constant battle. Women do something with their purses. I can't explain it."

Clarke's Phyllis is not a drag role. He is Phyllis, and he's totally believable as a wealthy, middle-aged, sex-deprived New York socialite whose only purpose in life is to plan parties. In an ash-blonde pageboy and Donna Karan ensemble, he comes out as a cross between Phyllis Schlafly and Ivana Trump. I kept wanting her to come back. Of the gender-bending Leslie, Clarke says, "I had to try a lot of different looks to nail Leslie. It's very difficult for a man to appear androgynous. We tried several different hairstyles and outfits before we hit on the one we used." And Tom, the macho dog owner? "He was probably the easiest, although there were facets of his character I really wanted to explore. As a straight man in love with his male dog, I think there was some conflict there."

What's next after Sylvia? "Christmas," Clarke says. "This will be my first Christmas in New York. I usually go home for the holidays, but this year I decided to stay. I'm looking forward to it."

Mary, Mary runs through this Sunday, Nov. 24, at the Strand Theater in Galveston. Call (409)763-4591 for reservations. Sylvia also runs through Nov. 24, with the possibility of a hold-over, at the Alley Theatre. Call (713) 228-8421 or (800)259-ALLE.

Recording Star

GISELE JACKSON

Keeps It Real and Moving Forward

Baby, when you've got it, you've got it. And in the case of Waako recording artist Gisele Jackson's new club smash, "Love Commandments" (produced by Louie "Balo" Guzman), it seems as though everyone is getting it. The track is already in the teens on the Billboard Club Play Chart. It's getting rave reviews from top deejays the likes of Kenny Carpenter, Danny Tenaglia (who did the remixes), Joe T. Vannelli, 95 North and Tony Humphries. Additionally, the track is getting radio play around the world — on London's Kiss FM and Radio One, various stations throughout Italy and Groove radio and Power 106 in California, and also in the mix on numerous stations in New York, New Jersey, Florida and Texas (how about that!). Gisele first hit the dance scene about a year ago with her first hit single on Waako, "Me, Myself & I," a track which caught the attention of superstar producer Steve "Silk" Hurley (who has also expressed an interest in working with her).

In speaking with Gisele recently, we found her to be most delightful. Her strong vocal presence, jazz roots and dynamic personality, along with the fine team at Waako, give Gisele all the raw materials necessary to achieve true diva-hood. Check out "Love Commandments" and beware, there's talk of an album.

TWT: Tell us about "back in the day," growing up and all that.

Gisele: I'm from Baltimore, Maryland originally...the oldest of three, that far back? Sure.

Okay...three girls. Most of my schooling was in Baltimore. I went to Howard University in D.C., where I studied, actually had a double major of theatre and broadcast production. However, music ended up being, really, my trail. I did a lot of dinner theatre and a lot of private parties to make money while I was in school. Then I tried to bounce back between L.A. and New York, trying to get the career started, thinking L.A. would be the move; but it wasn't. New York was definitely my edge because I was pretty much connected on the East Coast. So I came back to New York and did some theatre, but I ended up back in D.C., where I put a jazz band together and we did some clubs there for a while. Came back to New York and did some local theatre in Brooklyn, sang backup with Ray Charles for a while (now that was the snaps!). Then I started working with a 19-piece all-female big band which I'm still working with called "Kit McClure's Big Band." We've traveled quite a bit doing jazz festivals all around the U.S., Canada and as far as Japan. So even though my degree was for theatre, music just took off for me, for whatever reason.

I'm a performing artist.

You know,

going in the studio is fun,

but it kind of hems you up.

Did you have jazz influences during childhood? Your parents?

My dad was very influential in my musical background as a child. He was very much into jazz, and in Baltimore they had what is called the Left Bank Jazz Society and my dad was a member, so I grew up listening to Miles Davis, Maynard Ferguson, Nina Simone, Nancy Wilson....My father played that. Every Sunday we woke up with it.

So with all of this jazz in your life, how did you come to have a dance record on Waako?

Last summer I was doing a show with the all-female band and Keith Kemper from Waako saw me perform, and thought that the label would want to work with me. So, as they say, the rest is history. My first record ["Me, Myself & I"] was about a year ago to the day.

How do you classify yourself as an artist? House, jazz, dance?

I'm a performing artist. You know, going in the studio is fun, but it kind of hems you up. It can get uptight in there, especially working with live musicians in the studio. It doesn't have the same flow as performing it live. I'm really, really a live performer. That's what I do. That's where the joy comes from for me.

What's been one of your big performance highs?

Playing at Blues Alley in D.C. I lived there for nine years and never did Blues Alley. It wasn't until after I left that they asked me to come back, and I mean, that's where everybody has come through, all the greats. I remember sitting in the dressing room and thinking, "Wow! Nancy Wilson sat here and Sarah Vaughan sat here." They came down these very same stairs. Coming down the stairs and the spotlight...it was a personal goal met for me, you know. Like, wow, I played Blues Alley for two nights! And then the other — although I wasn't really performing — was hearing my record being played at the Sound Factory Bar by Louie Vega. I still haven't found a word to describe that feeling.

BY JIMMY SMITH

Where do you see the future of dance music heading?

Hopefully, it gets its just due. We need the same recognition that the other genres like rap get at the Grammys. Dance music has survived underground for so long, probably longer than rap, wouldn't you say? We just have to get it to the mainstream audience and get airplay for our music on the radio. We just need to work together.

What do you really believe in, Gisele?

I'm just an advocate of keeping things real. We have such a big gap here in America between the classes of people. I'd like to get rid of classes. Humankind should just be humankind — gay, straight, whatever. We're human, and when it comes down to it, I ain't gonna answer to the President. I ain't gotta answer to Newt Gingrich. I ain't gonna have to answer to them people. What I have to answer to is a higher power than the people I come into contact with every day. We just have to be spiritually open enough to receive the signals to know what's right for us so we can look back when the time comes and say, "We did the right thing." Think of it this way: Look at New York — or the world, for that matter. All around us we have all this mess, so many people, problems, you name it....But out of all this mess some of the most beautiful things grow. It's like a lotus flower — look where it grows! In nasty swamp water, but it grows into a thing of beauty in spite of its surroundings. You just gotta keep it real, keep movin' forward. WJ

Be Smart About HIV

NEW RESEARCH SUGGESTS THAT REDUCING THE AMOUNT OF VIRUS MAY HELP YOU LIVE LONGER

A public health message from the National Minority AIDS Council and the National Lesbian and Gay Health Association in association with GlaxoWellcome
Copr. © 1996 Glaxo Wellcome Inc. DFP13380 October 1996

KEEP THE VIRUS DOWN LONGER

It's now known that HIV stays active in your body from the moment of infection. Even though you may feel fine, the virus does not let up. Instead, it's busy copying itself, always producing more virus. Your immune system needs help to fight back, to lessen the amount of virus in your blood. And, reducing the amount of virus may help you live longer.

KNOW THE POTENTIAL BENEFITS OF NEW TREATMENT OPTIONS

Now is the time to discuss with your doctor what you can do to fight HIV. A good diet, a commitment to exercise, and healthy living are all important steps that can help you. If appropriate, your doctor may recommend new treatment options.

Recent studies report that new treatment options are producing results never seen before. In some people, they are reducing the amount of virus in the blood to levels so low it can't be detected. And new research suggests that reducing the amount of virus may help you live longer. Results like these demand your attention.

SEE YOUR DOCTOR NOW AND TREAT YOURSELF WELL

The latest medical findings tell us that while there is no cure, treating HIV aggressively may be one of the smartest things you can do for yourself. Keep in mind, people will respond differently to various treatment options. Whether or not you've been on treatment before, the time to consider new options is now.

See your doctor or healthcare professional—be smart about HIV.

Fish gotta swim, birds gotta fly and the Sun gotta change signs from Scorpio to jolly old Sagittarius this week. Prepare for a new spurt of energy and a drive to fulfill your unique personal mission. And if that mission happens to involve an egg timer and a squeeze bottle of mustard, who am I to say?

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) If you thought that finances were all tied up nice and pretty, think again, queer Scorp. Sun in Sag acts like a wild spendthrift, playing jolly havoc with even the best-laid financial plans. Of course, Sag energy plays hard and wins hard most of the time. (I suspect most of us like it like that.) Don't risk more than you can comfortably afford to lose, but also keep in mind that life is far too short to hoard.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Happy birthday, proud Archer. The Sun in your own sign encourages you to get Out there and make a name for yourself. (Let's hope that name is not "Cheap and Easy.") It's time to gather up your best ideas and present them to those who can help you succeed. Crash the right parties and make a good first impression. That means wearing clean underwear and washing your neck.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Sun in Sag casts a whole new light in that dark old closet of yours. Air it Out, queer Cap, and be honest about and with yourself. You'll feel much better and the smell in your house will be gone. This is also an excellent time to get involved with a great gay charity and volunteer with those brothers and sisters who need our help. Pile up those good karma points in time for the new year.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Aqueerians

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

BORN NOVEMBER 22, 1961

find comfort and conviviality among good friends and affirming social groups. The Sun in Sag makes your personal goals at one with the group; the energy is right to take on a good gay cause (Is there any other?) and hoist the rainbow banner high. Maybe it's time to dance to a different tune; the Sag energy is liberating and freedom-loving. Is it time to strike a new pose?

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) If you haven't thought of speaking up and demanding your professional rewards, the Sun in Sag will give you the push you need. Proud Fish are hard workers but sometimes fail to show off their talents where the big bosses can see. Use the next 29 days to show off your wares. There's a better than average chance you'll get that recognition. Don't be a working schlub.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Proud Rambos can't help but look at life from a different angle when the Sun moves from private Scorpio to ecumenical Sag. Don't be surprised if the next 29 days bring unusual people to your door (no names, please...) or send you Out and about into the world. Expect a bright light to shine in your eyes as you begin to comprehend all the world has in store for you. (Is it a sobriety test?)

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) The Sun in Sag loosens up more than a few gay Bulls. Sexual energy is high, so set that bod on

AUSTIN CHANNEL JOINS LINEUP FOR 'IN THE LIFE'

December Installment of Gay Newsmagazine Looks at AIDS Today, 'Rent' and Rodeo.

TEXAS — An Austin station has been added to the lineup of outlets across the country that carry In the Life, a television newsmagazine covering the nation's gay community and issues of interest to that community.

KLRU Channel 20 (Austin Cable Vision) joins KUHT Channel 8 in Houston and KDTN Channel 2 in Dallas, which have been airing the show for some time.

In the Life, a production of Thirteen/WNET of New York City, airs on over 90 public TV stations, including 19 of the top 20 markets, and reaches over one million viewers per episode.

In the December installment, correspondents Tanya Barfield, Hal German and Darius de Haas join host Katherine Linton for several stories. The lead segment, "AIDS in 1996: A Look Back, A Look Ahead," begins with coverage of the recent Washington, DC display of the entire NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt and moves on to ask whether the corner has finally been turned in the fight against HIV. American composer John Corigliano and others are interviewed in "Memoriam: Of Rage and Remembrance" about the genesis of Corigliano's choral work Of Rage and Remembrance, which memorializes his friends lost to AIDS.

"A Day in the Life...of Michelle Lopez" looks at the activist who has worked to ensure that she and others of her demographic profile — Lopez is an African-American lesbian and a mother of two who has AIDS — are represented in the HIV dialogue. "In the Arts: Rent" tells the story of the hit Broadway musical that puts the disease front and center.

Other segments in the December installment of In the Life include "In the Community: That Business of 'He' Or 'She,'" a look at the burgeoning transgender activist movement; "The International Gay Rodeo," in which the show traveled to Albuquerque, New Mexico for the national finals of what has become a fixture of gay culture; and "POWARS: Pet Owners With AIDS Resource Center," a profile of one of a growing number of organizations around the country that help people with AIDS care for their pets.

In the Life airs at midnight on Channel 8 in Houston Dec. 1; at 11 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 28 on Channel 2 in Dallas; and at 9:30 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 5 on Channel 20 (Austin Cable Vision) in Austin.

The December episode is funded in part by the H. van Ameringen Foundation, the Michael Palm Foundation, The Advocate, the New York Community Trust, the Imperial Court of New York, Jeffrey B. Soref, Fred P. Hochberg and Tom Healy, and In the Life members nationwide. For more information, call (212)255-6012.

ORTA'S DEPARTURE ADDS MELANCHOLY NOTE TO ALLGO'S HOLIDAY SEASON

Group Starting Statewide Search For New Project Director.

AUSTIN — The Austin Latino/a Lesbian and Gay Organization's annual Thanksgiving Potluck last Sunday was a gala afternoon, as nearly 50 people turned out to enjoy two big turkeys, a ham, music and games.

Amidst all the thankfulness, though, was a generous portion of regret: It was Jose Orta's final event as Project Director of ALLGO/Informe-SIDA, which was created eight years ago by and for people of color to help them learn to live with HIV and to gain access to services. After three years and three months as Project Director, Orta's last official day was Wednesday.

"I've been (HIV-positive) since 1989," Orta said wistfully among the last-minute preparations for the Potluck at the Living Well Center in southeast Austin. "I think I've been dealing well with my status; ALLGO has helped a lot. But I need to start practicing what I tell people: Reduce stress, and deal with the HIV."

"I'm going to take off for three months, a sabbatical. There's an opportunity for me to do some educational work with representatives (in the state Legislature) about the ADAPT program. Then I'll decide in about three months what I want to do...in a less stressful environment."

Orta has been involved with ALLGO for 5½ years. He started out as a volunteer, became a board member, then resigned the board to apply for the position of Project Director of ALLGO/Informe-SIDA.

Michelle C. Casanova, who became ALLGO's Executive Director last summer, was among those expressing deep regrets about Orta's departure. "It's going to be weird," she said. "It's going to be like swimming without my (lifesaving) doughnut. Jose helped me so much since I arrived. But he keeps threatening us that he's still going to be around!"

ALLGO has begun a statewide search for Orta's successor. Primary requirements include a strong working knowledge of HIV and AIDS; fluency in Spanish; a bachelor's degree (master's preferred) in social work, public administration, management or a related field; and strong interpersonal skills. Casanova said she would like to find a replacement by the holidays, or at least by Feb. 1, 1997.

'Tis the season to be busy for ALLGO and Informe-SIDA. Right after the Thanksgiving Potluck comes the 12th annual Tamalada and Christmas Party, set for Saturday, Dec. 14, at Alma de Mujer, 13621

FM 2769 in Austin by Lake Travis. The day-long event starts at noon with a Christmas Arte Mercado and Tamalada; Casanova is excited and nervous about the event, because she will be leading the making of tamales for the first time in her life. At 6 p.m., the partying picks up with music and entertainment, going on until midnight or later. Tickets are free; call (512)258-3880, (512)477-6007 or (512)472-2001 for directions or more information.

ALLGO will be electing officers for its board of directors in January; nominations to the board's 12 positions are now being accepted. On Feb. 15, the group's largest annual fund-raiser, Baile de Amor, will be held at the Hyatt Regency on Town Lake.

Orta said he would still be taking part in future ALLGO events; he even hinted that he might seek to return to the group's board. But it will seem strange all around that there will be no Jose Orta in the day-to-day life of ALLGO.

"It's grown so much," he sighed. "I think I'm leaving it on very strong footing. ALLGO has an energetic, enthused Executive Director and it's in a very important place to the community. This has been a wonderful experience for me."

INT'L GAY PARENTS COALITION FORMS METROPLEX CHAPTER

*Group Seeking Volunteers;
First Meeting Set for Dec. 8.*

DALLAS/FORT WORTH — The Gay and Lesbian Parents Coalition International has formed a new chapter in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex to provide support to gay and lesbian parents and their children.

"We're very excited about this organization and the possibilities for providing support, education and advocacy for our children, ourselves and the community," said Roger Grape, Co-Chair of the new Dallas-Fort Worth chapter. "There are hundreds of gay- and lesbian-headed families in the metroplex who can benefit from simply knowing that they are not alone. GLPCI is a great way to meet other families and give our children support and a sense of community."

Goals of the new chapter include sponsoring speaker seminars and classes on parenting issues; producing a bimonthly newsletter; planning special outings and participating in gay and lesbian community events; offering a speakers bureau to organizations interested in learning more about gay and lesbian family issues; organizing a chapter of Children of Lesbians and Gays Everywhere; starting a support group for lesbians and gay men who want to become parents; and creating a resource list for parents looking for gay- and lesbian-sensitive doctors, lawyers and other professionals, businesses and organizations.

In order to be successful, these goals and the organization itself need volunteers, especially gay and lesbian parents and those interested in becoming parents.

The next Dallas-Fort Worth chapter meeting will be held on Sunday, Dec. 8, from 4-6 p.m. at Oak Lawn Community Services, 4300 MacArthur, Suite 200. To RSVP for child care, or for directions or more information, call (214)521-5342, ext. 808 or write to P.O. Box 670069, Dallas, TX 75367.

NIGHTCLUB OWNER BENEFITS HOUSTON'S Q PATROL

*Group Says Armstrong Donation
Will Go for Additional Radios.*

HOUSTON — Last week, Charles Armstrong, President/CEO of Heaven, JR's Bar & Grill, The Santa Fe Bar & Patio and Montrose Mining Company, presented a $1,000 donation to Houston's Q Patrol on behalf of the staff and management of his clubs. Armstrong cited his desire to remind people that the holidays are a time when we "must all pay a little special attention to our own personal safety."

The donation was made in memory of Michael Burzinski and Paul Broussard, two young Houston men who were targeted and lost their lives because they were perceived to be gay. Armstrong credited the Q Patrol with providing a service to the lesbian and gay community on which a price cannot be put. "I want to say 'thank you' to the men and women of the Q Patrol who walk the streets of Montrose in an attempt to make it a safer place in which to live or visit."

Houston club owner Charles Armstrong (l) presented a check to Glen Holt of the Q Patrol, which will use the donation for additional two-way radios.

Glen Holt of Q Patrol, who accepted the donation, said the money would be put to good use. "As the organization continues to grow, we are in need of additional two-way radios," Holt told TWT NEWS. He further encouraged greater community involvement. "Anyone who can give just one four-hour shift a month on a Friday or Saturday night can make a difference."

Those interested in becoming involved may reach Q Patrol at (713)528-SAFE.

DALLAS CENTER TO ADD DONORS' BRICKS TO MEMORIAL

'Every Day Is World AIDS Day' Ceremony Set for Dec. 1.

DALLAS — While the world sets aside Dec. 1 as World AIDS Day, the AIDS Resource Center in Dallas has created a project to help people remember AIDS every day of the year. Dec. 1 will mark the unveiling of the third set of bricks to be added to the center's Memorial.

The AIDS Resource Center is commemorating World AIDS Day with a ceremony respectfully designated "Every Day Is World AIDS Day." Linda Brown, Associate Pastor at Northaven United Methodist Church, will provide the invocation and the Women's Chorus of Dallas will perform at the hour-long ceremony beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the Center.

Each brick honors the memory of friends and loved ones who have died of AIDS. The $50 cost of each brick also supports the programs of the Foundation from within the community, including AIDS prevention, awareness and wellness programs at the Resource Center.

"We have about 80 bricks being installed this time," said Jim Brown of the AIDS Resource Center.

It's too late to purchase bricks for this unveiling, but according to Brown, there will be a fourth unveiling in about four months. Anyone interested in purchasing a brick for the next ceremony should contact the AIDS Resource Center at (214) 521-5124.

WORLD AIDS DAY RADIO SPECIAL FOCUSES ON HIV AND BLACK COMMUNITY

*Stations in Dallas, Houston to Air
'AIDS & African Americans:
Reasons for Hope.'*

TEXAS — In conjunction with World AIDS Day (Dec. 1), radio stations in Dallas and Houston will join others around the country in broadcasting AIDS & African Americans: Reasons for Hope, an hour-long special designed to increase awareness of HIV/AIDS prevention and treatment in the black community.

The special will provide information on HIV testing and treatment as well as tips on how to access health-care resources specific to African-Americans. African-American journalist Hope Daniels hosts the program along with Chris DeChant, who has been living with HIV for seven years. There will be interviews with leading AIDS physicians and messages from recording artist Patti Austin and world champion Chicago Bulls guard Randy Brown encouraging HIV testing and treatment.

In Dallas, KKDA 730 AM will be broadcasting the program at 8 a.m. on Dec. 1 and again on Dec. 6 at 8 p.m. KNON 89.3 FM will also air the show, at a time yet to be announced.

In Houston on Dec. 1, KKRW 93.7 FM will broadcast the special at 7 a.m., KMJQ 102.1 FM will play it at 8 a.m. and KJOJ 103.3 AM will air the program at 5 p.m.

AWARE, a weekly syndicated radio show that deals with issues relating to HIV/AIDS, produced the radio special in conjunction with the National Association of People with AIDS, an organization dedicated to improving the lives of people with HIV disease.

"Since AIDS disproportionately affects the African American community, it is increasingly important that we come together to fight this devastating disease," Ernest Hopkins, Director of Health and Treatment for NAPWA, said last week.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, HIV/AIDS is now the leading cause of death among African-Americans 25-44 years old. While African-Americans represent approximately 12 percent of the general population, they account for almost 40 percent of AIDS cases in the U.S.

AIDS & African Americans: Reasons for Hope was underwritten by an educational grant provided by Glaxo Wellcome, Inc. In Houston, broadcast of the program is being supported by AIDS Foundation Houston, Inc.

A similar program focusing on HIV and the Hispanic community is under preparation, with details to be announced shortly.

[For more information on World AIDS Day and related events, see next week's issue.]

sensational new element as the Midtowne Spa introduces Latex Saturday to their monthly evening of levi and leather. As always, shameless Caged Heat dancers will heat you up and cheap drinks will cool you off. See you there....

During a special Human Rights Campaign reception at Rascals, we focused in on lesbian/gay activist and HRC spokeswoman Chastity Bono [right]. In addition to reviving that incredible event known as Tea Dance, Rascals is having a Best Basket & Buns Contest every Sunday at 10 p.m. They supply the shorts; you supply the rest. Don't forget about the club's exciting Wednesday night Lil' Rascal male strip contest with over $200 in cash prizes and Monday night football on the big screen upstairs....

Having completed his acquisition of a two-story facility at 4040 Milam between Richmond and W. Alabama, Fitness new building. Remodeling is in high gear for the club's opening in December. Join now and save with their pre-grand opening "buy one, get one free" sale....

During the "Thanksgiving Wish" benefit for AVES at Gentry, we rounded up Miss TGRA Jamie Roberts and Xavier Luna [right, l-r], who received special recognition at this year's rodeo for raising a record-setting $18,600 during his Mr. TGRA candidacy. This Sunday, the Gentry Gaps present "Oh My God, It's Purple Balls," benefiting Soiree Aubergine. At 4 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day, Emperor XIII candidate Jerel McNeil and Mr. Houston All-American Sean Carter will be serving complimentary turkey dinners. Coming next month is the Gentry staff's annual turnabout show on Sunday, Dec. 1 and Mr. and Miss Gentry on Saturday, Dec. 7....

A festive spread and friendship were the order of the evening last Sunday as the Houston NAMES Project held its volunteer appreciation party at Sausalito Seafood & Pasta. In addition to remarks by caterer and longtime supporter Jackson Hicks (recently named President of the Board of Directors of the national NAMES Project Foundation), Volunteer Chair Perrie Dolph [above, r] and Board Chair David Jackson recognized all those who have helped make the Houston chapter and the recent Washington, DC display such a success.

SAN ANTONIO TEA — If you're looking for your next husband — and who isn't? — look no further than Eagle Mountain Saloon and gorgeous bartender Wade [left], definitely husband material. The club will be holding a Selena celebration on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, starting at 9 p.m. There'll be special memorabilia handouts at the door while supplies last. Included will be posters from the past and present, buttons and more. The party continues at EM's with great crowds, great drink prices and fun for all. By the way, please make your party reservations at the club as soon as possible — the calendar is filling up rapidly....

The staff and management of Pegasus and the Silver Dollar invite you to a traditional Thanksgiving Feast this Tuesday, Nov.

26, from 7-9 p.m. While you're there, look for the fun-loving group of party people pictured above — George, Fernando, Larry, Artie and Bob [l-r] — who certainly know how to have a great time. Return to the Pegasus for Monday Madness featuring ridiculously cheap well and longnecks....

Big happenings at The Saint this past week with the Miss Tri-States USofA Pageant, which was won by Amber Nixx, and the huge benefit show presented by the cast to the Baton Show Lounge in Chicago, which raised nearly $3,000 for the Tandi Andrews Benevolent Fund. We'll have photos of both events next week. Be at the club this Sunday when Sweet Savage joins the cast as special guest....

This is your last week to take advantage of the special prices Encore and Zebra'z is offering on their entire selection of lubes in stock. Slip in and see what else is new for you to enjoy. Their huge selection of videos can't be beat, either....

Say hello to handsome Steve [right], Wild Corner's new manager. He invites all of you out to Woody's on Tuesdays for their comedy nights featuring hilarious clips mixed throughout the night.

Don't forget Absolutely Fabulous Wednesdays, either. Don't miss Woody's and ReBar's first anniversary celebration this Thanksgiving Thursday, Nov. 28. While you're on the corner, step next door to the Wild Club and take advantage of no cover for adults seven nights a week. The club has some of the lowest regular drink prices in town, so check it out.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Welcome to the newest partying palaces in town, The Forum and The Cuff, sharing adjacent spaces at 408 Congress Ave. Owner/manager Mark Haworth and assistant manager Timm Groovy [above, l-r] and their staff worked feverishly to prepare things, and it paid off nicely when they rolled out the red carpet for a Sneak Peak Private Party last Friday and an Octopus Club Shindig two nights later. They're still putting on the finishing touches, especially to the leather-bar motif of The Cuff in the back, but it'll all come together this weekend with a Grand Opening celebration that includes a Blackout with Blackhaus Party at 9 tonight, Dancing Till Dawn Saturday and happy hour prices Sunday until 11 p.m. And check out their rooftop, sure to be redubbed "Heaven" for its ambience and limited access; it's destined to be The Place for special events....

At 5th Street Station, one of our favorite folks, Doug Galle [below] is retiring after his 2-9 p.m. shift this Sunday the 24th to go back to the "real" world for a while. Come schmooze and wish him well; and you'd better come back and see us often,

Doug! The Sunday Showcase later that evening features Dyan Michaels, who we swear out-Rebas Miss McIntyre. The Right Sisters are calling a gathering of their clans for a Christopher House benefit at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 27; this show will be a classic, and includes San Antonio's Pointless Sisters, the Damn-Damn Sisters, the Trailer Sisters and more as well as guest emcee Dynamite Shaboomboom. Keep tinkering with those recipes, because the second annual Chili Cook-Off is Saturday, Nov. 30....

We don't know how Daddy Wayne and his elves at Charlie's do it, but for the 15th straight year they'll be offering their free Thanksgiving dinner from 1-3 p.m. Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28; doors open at noon. Bring your gratitude, your appetite and your loved ones. Kourtney Wells did a magnificent job last Sunday as guest emcee, and she does an encore at 11:30 this Sunday, Nov. 24, with special guests Whitney Paige and Scarlett Leigh....

Lovely Duchess Laura [above, c] threw a magnificent three-day bash for her birthday at Blue Flamingo! The day itself was Thursday the 14th, and it was a madhouse of marvelous men, wild women and indescribable rock. Mike and the Molesters gave Miss Laura a trophy as their "Number 1 Fan 1996," everyone was pinning dollars (and a stapled $2 bill) to the Duchess's shirt and the birthday cake was to die for. But we're still going to have to see your ID, girlfriend....

They were celebrating birthdays up at 'Bout Time, too, with Lady Pam and Topaz [right, l-r] among the Scorpios being honored at Pam's birthday bash last Saturday. Recovery time is already over, though, because Glorie Ho's Harvest Ho-Down is at 10:30 tomorrow, featuring your favorite performers plus an open Harvest Hat Contest with cash prizes. Augusta Blush is your emcee, and the fun benefits the ASA Food Bank and the Pediatric AIDS League. 'Bout Time will open at 4 p.m. Thanksgiving Day so the gang can partake of Daddy Wayne's feast at Charlie's....

Rainbow Cattle Company is also having a thank-you Thanksgiving Western Dinner, running from 5-8 p.m. so as not to conflict with Daddy Wayne on Thursday the 28th. Bill Bailey and Co. are making Thursdays real special with theme parties and contests; on Dec. 5 comes the Priscilla Queen of the Desert Look-Alike Contest, with cash prizes and bus supplied by RCC. Men's oil wrestling is on tap for Sunday, Dec. 8. Seems like it's always happy hour at the Rainbow; check it out....

The Three Michaels [above; we can never be sure which is which] are among the gorgeous new faces at Chain Drive; yum, yum, yum! Speaking of yum, the Capital City Riders Motorcycling Club put on a delicious Ham-Feast last Sunday, raising both money for charity and our waistline! From 4-9 p.m. this Sunday the 24th is the Chain Gang's own Holiday Pork Roast on the South Patio, benefiting ASA's Food Bank. That night at 11 there'll be another Full Moon Contest; sign up by 10:30 p.m. We recently saw the beautiful Memorial North Patio for the first time, and it's heaven; no smoking, and nothing but good karma allowed....

Oilcan Harry's brought the Sounds of South Beach (2) to Austin last weekend, and we could hear the gulls and waves and smell the ocean. That deejay Tony Garcia just doesn't let you stand still! Things are back to normal this weekend, which still means more fun than is legally allowed in many countries. The divine Miss H continues to host the classic Disco 2000 Tea Dance every Sunday from 4-10 p.m....

FOOT-LONG NOTES: We've found yet another hot club to party at that welcomes any and all fun-seekers. It's Victory Grill at 1104 E. 11th, and believe it or not it's 50 years old (but doesn't act it!). Last Friday, it hosted the Hookers' Ball with host Alton [left] of the ACTV show Alton on the Spot, and the party animals really know how to have a no-holds-barred good time. Check it out at 10 p.m. this Saturday the 23rd, when Boyd Vance hosts the Hot House Revue, including illusionists exotic, erotic and beyond!....We're still waiting to see if our old friend Warren has The Club Formerly Known As Kansas ready to open on Thanksgiving; remodeling continues feverishly....Keep it shaking, people!

DALLAS TEA — The weather may be getting cooler, but Village Station is hotter than ever. You only have to spend a few minutes inside to find out why Village Station was voted Dallas' Best Dance Club for 1996. Jim, Rich, Jeff and Lauri [above, l-r] were recently caught by our CRUISE CAMERA partying the night away. While cruisin' the Crossroads this weekend, make sure you stop at Village between 10:30 and 11 on Friday and between 9 and 9:30 on Saturday for free cover and 30 minutes of wildly low drink prices plus the hottest dance music around. Then, on Sundays, jump in your disco-ball-shaped time machine for RetroTrash and Long Island Teas priced cheap enough to make you think you really are living in the '70s. Coming soon to Village Station, it's world-renowned female impersonator Frank Marino performing to benefit Home for the Holidays. More details here soon....

Judging by the huge success of Union Jack's 25th Anniversary Celebration promotions, this great Cedar Springs clothing store will easily be around for another 25.

Next time you're in there, look for Josh Joyce [right]. He's got a great eye for what's hot in fashion and he might just help you pick out something spectacular to wear out for the weekend....

As if it weren't enough to participate in the spectacular Cruisin' the Crossroads from 9-9:30 on Fridays and from 10-10:30 on Saturdays at Throckmorton Mining Company, those guys have added "Cruisin' into Overdrive." Get it in gear because from 10:30-11 on Friday and Saturday nights, TMC has bottom-of-the-beer-barrel prices on top-of-the-line draft beer. Then round off your weekend activities on Sunday with vodka drink specials all day and all night. Go by this weekend and get your daily dose of TMC. While you're at it, cozy up to Brian and Alan [left, l-r], the first smiling faces you'll see when you enter TMC. HOT TEA would also like to wish Joe Williams a very happy birthday. See you at the Mine....

It's official. The guys at Alternatives of New Fine Arts want your meat — canned, that is. It's the Holiday Food Drive and not only will the AIDS Food Pantry benefit from your donations, but you will, too. Bring in any nonperishable meat product and get a half-price one-, two- or three-day rental. Or drop off any other nonperishable food item and receive a 10% discount off any purchase over $5. There are many other great ways you can save through your donations, so stop by and ask Kevin Meuir or Steve Carney [above, l-r] for complete details....

It seems like it's always happy hour at Zippers. Every Sunday through Friday, you can enjoy your favorite beverages for nine whole hours. That's right, it lasts from noon till nine. If that's not enough to get you in, maybe the gorgeous male dancers will entice you further. Recent patrons Robert and Art [above, l-r] know Zippers is a great place to get it all. HOT TEA would also like to welcome Brian back from his lei-fest in Hawaii. See if he can hook you up with a mai tai while he shows you his vacation photos....

Sunday has long been a day set aside for doing good things for other people, so it should come as no surprise that the Round-Up is ready to do something nice for others and put on a fantastic show at the same time. What is all this rambling about? The Miss Charity America 1996 Pageant, of course. It's all happening this Sunday at 7 p.m., hosted by newly crowned Miss Gay Texas 1997 Laken Edwards. Special guests include Mr. Texas All-American Stuart Michaels and 1996 Queen of the Closet Ball Wynn Mathews.

Naturally, there'll be lots more, but you won't want to miss this spectacular event at the Round-Up. Don't be a stranger, though. Come in tonight and enjoy the best country music around....

Moby Dick has another hit on its hands. The Wednesday night Big "8" Ball pool tournament has been a huge success, especially for the winners, who've been walking away with pockets full of cash. So if you've got the skill, or even if you don't, you'll have a ball. Just ask Jack and host Chip [above, l-r], captured recently by our camera. Speaking of captured, are you looking for a fun way to get a date? Then you can't pass up the chance to be in Gay Singled Out every Sunday at 7. If you do win a date with your dream man, you'll want to stick around and sing about it during Moby Dick's Video Karaoke show at 10. There's always something new and exciting happening at the bar with the balconies — Moby Dick....

Put on your conductor's hat and make tracks to Traxx, Dallas' newest party train. Friday nights, join Betty Neal for her Friday night showcase. Saturdays, Traxx offers a little something to please everyone with male and female exotic dancers. Thanksgiving night, make plans to see the divine Martha Wash in concert, singing all her mega-hits. Deep Ellum may never be the same....

Tonight's the night you've all been waiting for as Ice Factory presents Crush live at midnight. If you haven't already gotten your tickets, hurry over to Bill's Records or Oak Lawn Records to reserve your spot. Saturday night, you won't believe the deal Ice Factory's got for you. From 9-11 p.m., there's no cover charge and drinks are so cheap you could buy a round for all your friends with the loose change you find in your sofa. The Family Groove returns every Sunday to the Ice Factory hosted by Clark

Kent and deejay Robert Taylor....

Bamboleo's hosts a double pageant preliminary to Miss Gay Texas At Large next Friday, Nov. 29. Raven Productions presents Miss Gay Lone Star At Large and Miss Gay Southwest At Large with emcee Lisa Markay. For information, call (817)752-3121....

Michael Schmelter and Paul Gonzales [above, l-r] have found a great new place to party. Kolors is quickly catching on. They've got hot happy hour dancers, delicious drinks and some of the friendliest men around. Head over and see for yourself this weekend. Don't forget the official grand opening coming Thanksgiving weekend....

Cruise into Sue Ellen's this Friday and Saturday from 9:30-10 for Cruisin' the Crossroads. Get in for free and quench your thirst with super drinks at super prices. Maybe you can buy a frosty beverage for birthday girl Marsha Brewster while you're there. Sunday nights, if vodka's your thing, Sue Ellen's is definitely the place to be. They've got specially-priced vodka drinks all day and all night. If live music is your cup of tea, then you're in luck in that department, too. Friday night, kick back and listen to the beautiful voice of Deborah Vial, then on Monday, enjoy the sounds of Lisa Michaels and Kathy Corbin. These are some fantastic performers. Speaking of fantastic performers, of a different sort, HOT TEA wants to wish a happy, happy birthday to Caven Enterprises receptionist Lisa Partin. See you soon at Sue's....

Need a reason to be thankful this Thanksgiving? Then JR's should be at the top of your list. They're doing more than ever to make sure you have a good time when you're in their bar. Of course, there's always Cruisin' the Crossroads on Friday at 10 and Saturday at 10:30 for half an hour of fun. Sunday at JR's means Anything Goes. That's the name of Wanda's show, but it also seems to describe the party attitudes of everyone who comes. Plus, they've got vodka specials all day and video karaoke at 10 p.m. Wednesday is the time to come if you want to participate in a pool tournament hosted by the wild 'n' wacky Wanda. Then, after a long day of stuffing your faces on Thanksgiving, head over to JR's. They'll be open for your enjoyment at 6 p.m. Gobble, gobble....

Crews Inn's Friday night trash disco is packing them in week after week. There's nothing quite like the nostalgic feeling you get while listening to your favorite disco tunes and watching your favorite dancers shake their groove-things. Stop by tonight and dance the night away. Look for Spanky and put in your souvenir request. He's off to Amsterdam soon and will be missed. But don't worry, there are plenty of great guys working at Crews Inn. Head over any Sunday through Wednesday and belly up to bartender Mark. He's newly single, so anything's possible!...

The Metro has the Dallas Divas on stage every Sunday for your enjoyment. Join Obsession, Lady P.T., Sally Duvall and Kara Young each and every week for the fabulous productions, illusions and high-energy performances of these outstanding entertainers.

TARRANT TEA — Tonight at Magnolia Station, Manny Alvarado presents the 1997 Miss Metroplex pageant. This all-star evening of glitz and glamour will feature the talents of Miss Gay Texas Laken Edwards, last year's winner Charity Case, emcee Celeste Martinez and former titleholders Cherry Monroe, Sheri Powers, Patti Le Plae Safe and Essence Deville. With over $1,200 in cash and prizes going to the winner, this is sure to be quite a spectacle. Don't miss it!...

This Sunday at the 651 from 2-6 p.m., Juanita James presents "Circus of Stars." The festivities will include a multitude of food, games, entertainment and special guests. On Friday, Dec. 3, the club will host an exciting raffle to benefit a new free dental clinic for clients with HIV through the Celebration of Life Foundation. Prizes include tickets to A Tuna Christmas, a Tuna Christmas poster and Tuna video tapes. Special guests for the evening will be none other than those hilarious Tuna stars, Joe Sears and Jaston Williams.
